

WALL STREET STOCK PRICE MOVEMENTS ARE ERRATIC; TRADE SLOW

Late Demand Appears for U. S. Steel, General Electric and American Telephone Shares.

NO CHANGE MADE IN BOSTON RATE

Announcement of Large Middle Western Steel Merger Is One of Important Developments of Day

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—The stock market had its ups and downs today, with final quotations generally lower. Public participation was on a small scale, which was attributed to the uncertainty regarding the immediate course of business and the natural disinclination of small operators to trade in a dull market. The best prices of the day, as a rule, were registered in the last hour, although the flurry of selling just before the close cut down or wiped out many of the gains.

Some disappointment was apparent in the further falling off in trading for the day, and the appearance of a receiver for the American Piano Co.

Steel Industry Situation.

It was stated that "the anomalous situation of production shrinking and confidence rising characterizes the steel market as the year-end approaches." It was noted that producers are convinced that the sharp decline in output that began in October was a psychological effect of the market crash and greatly exaggerated the actual contradiction and consumption.

The announcement of the formation of a large Middle Western merger, which has been under way for a long time, was one of the most important and interesting developments in the day's trading.

Call money was in fairly plentiful supply with the demand light.
The official rate maintained at 1 per cent. There was no change in time money, which was quoted at 4 1/2 to 5 per cent for all terms. The Boston Federal reserve bank made no change in its 4 per cent rediscount rate.

Steel Closes Unchanged

U. S. Steel common closed unchanged at 17 1/2 after fluctuating between 16 1/2 and 17 1/2. Republic Steel showed a net loss of 5 cents and Bethlehem fell back 1 cent.

General Electric was only able to make 2 points of an extreme gain

Brooklyn Union Gas
rose 1/2 point higher, Detroit Steel showed a net loss of 5 cents. American Mining and Smelting, which is ordinarily inactive, dropped 2 points to 17 1/2
and ended at 19 1/2.

Heavy selling of the International Commission issues featured

Large trading, the preferred stock of the International Commission, which is ordinarily inactive, dropped 2 points to 17 1/2
and ended at 19 1/2.

Exchanges Irregular.

Foreign exchange moved within narrow and irregular limits, with rates held fairly steady.
The London market was slightly lower, Latin-American currencies made a gain.

Commodity markets were mixed.
Wheat advanced about 50 cents.
Cotton declined about a cent.
The grain market was quiet.
The stock market showed little change.

60 BODIES TAKEN FROM OKLAHOMA COAL MINE

Of the 65 Men Trapped by Explosion Only Three Are Found Alive by 200 Rescue Workers.

NO HOPE FOR TWO STILL ENTOMBED Sparks From Electric Cutting Machine Suggested by Miners as Cause of Detonation.

By the Associated Press.

MCALISTER, Ok., Dec. 18.—Rescue workers who had toiled through the night today continued removing bodies from the lower levels of the Old Town coal Co. mine in North McAlester, where 65 miners were trapped by an explosion and fire yesterday.

Frank Parker, a mining engineer, was killed outright. Parker's body was removed shortly after the explosion.

Sixty bodies had been recovered at 10 o'clock in the morning from the mine. The bodies are in two McAlester morgues. Three men were rescued, unconscious from the fifty entry of the shaft. The mine bookkeeper said he believed two bodies still were in the mine.

The bodies of two men were recovered just before daylight from the seventh west entry of the mine by rescue workers who had toiled ceaselessly since 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The two bodies were bruised and burned to such an extent that identification was difficult.

These two bodies, those of Henry Shaper, Negro, and Walter Murdoch, white, showed that the terrible blast which ended the lives of the men almost instantly apparently centered about the seventh west entry.

The bodies of Manuel Luna and S. L. Mata were recovered during the night. They were Mexicans and arrived here recently from Texas. They went to work in the mine for the first time yesterday morning.

Trajectory of gas, which drifted thickly through the lower levels of the mine, hampered the rescue squads of more than 200 men and much of the effort during the night was directed at curtailing off sections of this dangerous area and at attempts to ventilate the mine.

Cause Not Established. An inspection did not disclose the origin of the explosion, Mine Inspector Hay said, but miners familiar with the workings were inclined to think sparks from an electric cutting machine were the cause. They thought the machine uncovered a pocket of gas, which exploded. This explosion, they said, probably caused dust, which in turn caused the greater explosion.

The mine suffered only slight damage, Hay said, but the broken and twisted condition of many of the bodies was evidence of the great force of the blast. Identification in many cases was difficult; one man's identity was established only through the fact he was known to have a broken toe.

Joe Fonzella, Arnold Kesinger and Frank Gonzales, three men rescued, told of a terrible confusion which left them dazed and dazed. Working much nearer the entrance than the others in the mine, the three groped their way farther into the mine, away from the main shaft, fearing mine damage, and then lapsed into unconsciousness.

Started in Ninth Entry. Hay emerged from the mine today after working 18 hours with the rescue crew. He said he and officers of the mining company had reached the conclusion that the explosion occurred in the ninth west entry.

Bodies taken from the west part of the mine were bruised and burned, while those recovered from the east part showed evidence of asphyxiation by the after-damp which consumed oxygen immediately after the blast.

"The interior of the mine was a pitiful sight," said Hay. "Bodies were found in all postures. None of them showed signs of any death struggle. Their expressions revealed they had gasped but once, then died. Some of the bodies were wrapped around the upright props. One was practically naked with a cable used in connection with his cap lamp wrapped five times about his arm."

Hugh C. Rice, general manager of the mine, said the company carried no compensation insurance for the workers. He intimated the company probably would be unable to give much financial aid to the destitute relatives of the dead miners and said he did not know whether the mine ever would be reopened. It would take a huge amount of money, he said, to put the mine in operation again and the company also would be faced with the superstition of miners, who shun shafts in which great disasters have occurred.

Co-ordinated Service Plan Of Trolley-Bus Purchase

company's buses now charge the same fares as the street cars and give universal transfers. The street car fares are fixed by the State Public Service Commission.

Following is Perkins' statement giving details of the purchase and prospective plans for co-ordination of service:

The City Utilities Company, with its large financial interest in the Public Service Company, realizes that the future of its large investment in St. Louis necessarily depends on the ability of the City Utilities Company to meet all reasonable demands of the public for more convenient and efficient service. Only through co-ordination of the major transportation facilities, in convenient and economical transportation be rendered in a municipality.

Such co-ordination has already, with great benefit to the public, been made effective in increasing number of large cities. The statement of principles early given out by the St. Louis Transportation Survey Commission stated the necessity and benefits of such co-ordination as follows:

A properly co-ordinated transit system is essential if the best and least expensive service is to be furnished and such co-ordination can best be accomplished with a unified transit system under one management.

City Utilities Company therefore felt that it should take steps to make such co-ordination possible as the Public Service Company was not in a financial position to do it.

The stock of the St. Louis Motor Coach Corporation, owning the People's Motorbus Co., had been acquired from the International Utilities Corporation. The City Utilities Co. found a practicable opportunity to purchase this stock from the International Utilities Corporation, and has now purchased it—immediately giving to the St. Louis Public Service Co. the right in case it needs the bus company property to carry out such policies as developments and agreements made with the city may determine to be for the greatest convenience of the public.

Change of ownership will cause no immediate change in the service now being furnished by People's Motorbus Co. Only as co-ordination is worked out to the public.

The total assets of the People's Motorbus Co. are shown on its books as $3,335,262.05, and its property and plant investment account as $3,690,323.57. The City Utilities Co., by taking advantage of a favorable opportunity, acquired the property at somewhat less than the latter figure, and far less than the figure at which the securities were originally put out to the public.

18 WOMEN SHOT BY BRITISH TROOPS IN WEST AFRICA

Clash With Natives Due to Misunderstanding About Food and Tax in South-east Nigeria.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Eighteen women were shot by British police and troops in Southeast Nigeria, Great Britain's West African colony, during native disorders on Dec. 12.

Dr. D. Shiels, Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, told a questioner in the House of Commons today that British authorities had been having trouble in dealing with native unrest in the southeastern section. This had resulted in a clash between natives and troops and police in which there were 18 casualties among the natives, though it was not known how many were killed.

Dr. Shiels said he regretted to announce that all of the casualties were among women.

He said that on Dec. 11 a large group of natives had looted and destroyed property despite assurances from British officials that the Government did not intend to impose taxes on food. A misunderstanding about the imposition of a poll tax had already developed.

Additional bodies of police, reinforced by a detachment of the Royal West African frontier force, were sent to the troubled area, and on Dec. 12 the Governor of Nigeria reported that he had enough troops and police to deal with any situation. But on Dec. 16 the Governor reported that it had been necessary to bring up more troops and police.

A large group of natives, including many women, then attacked British officials, and the troops fired.

Buses Started in 1928. The People's Motorbus Co. was promoted by the late Augustus Barnes, who received his inspiration after three crowded street cars had refused to stop to permit him to get on. Barnes interested wealthy acquaintances and operations were commenced in 1928.

Last March Hertz sold out for a reported consideration of $1,750,000 to the International Utilities Co., a Maryland holding corporation, which now passes control to the City Utilities Co., a Delaware holding corporation.

Amounts to Outright Purchase. Although the deal as announced by Perkins is for purchase of the St. Louis Motor Coach Co., it virtually amounts to outright purchase of the bus company, for the stock of the latter constitutes the principal asset of the former.

In 1928 the bus company carried about 32,000,000 revenue passengers. Its total revenue was $2,356,473 and its net profit was $115,439. In the same year the Public Service Co. carried 257,044,183 revenue passengers.

Alexander, chairman of the board of directors of the Guaranty Trust Co., since its merger with the National Bank of Commerce several months ago, resigned today, effective at the end of the year. He had been an officer of the National Bank of Commerce for 30 years and was nearing the retirement age.

The road had been torn up in advance of paving which was halted by unfavorable weather. The County Court ordered the cinders because of the prospect the road cannot be made until spring.

2000 KENTUCKY DERBY LOTTERY TICKETS SEIZED The police gambling squad last night seized more than 2000 tickets on a lottery in connection with the Kentucky Derby, to be run next May, from the room of Carl Schultz, 25 years old, at Hotel Statler.

Schultz, who said he came here yesterday from Milwaukee, Wis., explained the tickets were to be sold at $1 each and that prizes totaling $125,000 would be awarded. He denied selling any tickets here, and is held on a charge of suspected of conducting a lottery.

Beet Sugar Smoot, Senator Smoot Same

and ourselves. I understand that some suggestion of this came from the individual members of the committee. We are inclined to be a little doubtful about this step, but in the end would, of course, have to do what President Hoover desires, especially as he seems to be genuinely interested in our cause. Heretofore, our work has been in the direction of leaving final negotiations to Senator Smoot, who, after all, is the spokesman for the beet sugar interests.

"Among other things, we have been informed that outside of Smoot, Senator Reed of Pennsylvania is the most influential member of the Finance Committee of the Senate. I am very anxious to establish an intimate contact with him. I know that his secretary has become an advocate of the Cuban point of view, and at Senator Reed's request has been preparing a report on the subject during Reed's absence abroad."

Lakin said he could not remember the name of the Congressman who had given him the information contained in the letter. He said he thought it might be Representative Hull, whom he did not remember. There are four Hulls in the House.

Lakin's report mentioning Senator Smoot, dated Feb. 23, 1919, was sent to Secretary Abell of the Communications in President Machado's Cabinet. After outlining the Cuba Co.'s lobbying activities in Washington, Lakin said, "Ordinarily, I would be in favor of a Cuban committee negotiating with the 'remolacheros' (beet sugar producers), in the hope of persuading them to consent to a plan mutually beneficial to both Cuba and the 'remolacheros', but in this particular matter, Hon. Reed is the real spokesman for the 'remolacheros' and he is a Senator, and it would be difficult in talking with him to draw any distinction between his position as a Senator and his function as the leader of the 'remolacheros'."

In the same report, Lakin included what had become almost a stock phrase in his letters, "Mr. Shattuck is a friend of President Hoover. Mr. Shattuck is equally a friend of the President."

Edwin P. Shattuck is the counsel for the Cuba Co. George A. Zabriskie is the president of the United States Sugar Association, which, like the Cuba Co., was interested in a low tariff on Cuban sugar.

Wanted to Interest Hoover. "Probably it will be necessary," the report continued, "for Mr. Shattuck and other members of the committee to ascertain the latest attitude of Congress before undertaking to negotiate with the 'remolacheros'. This is especially likely to be the case because of the connection of Senator Smoot, with the 'remolacheros'. I should advise the committee that when the time comes to vote, they will vote in favor of Cuba."

Lakin identified Dr. Machado as a high Cuban official in the du Pont de Nemours & Co. Dr. Machado wrote to Irene du Pont, April 3, asking him to get in touch with Senator Hastings and Townsend and Congressman Houston of Delaware, in behalf of the Cuban sugar interests.

Conference Arranged With Edge. Lakin testified that former Gov. Stokes of New Jersey had arranged conferences with Senator Edge and Congressman Bacharach of New Jersey. Edge, before becoming Ambassador to France, was on the Senate Finance Committee, and Bacharach is still a member of the House Ways and Means Committee. These two committees handle the tariff bill.

The witness could not recall what interest Gov. Stokes had in the sugar schedule, although he got the impression that Stokes was very much wrought up over the matter.

Kept Check on Correspondents. The check the Cuba Co. officials kept on newspaper men and magazine writers afforded an amusing interlude in the hearing.

On a tip from W. H. Baldwin, a New York publicity agent, that L. C. Speers of the New York Times, and Myron Weiss of the weekly magazine, Time, would cover the

he had marked it in this manner to have it taken directly to Secretary Abell.

Morrow's Name Mentioned. The name of Dwight W. Morrow, American Ambassador to Cuba, was brought before the committee in a letter from Lakin to Shattuck.

"Included in a memorandum on Cuba of which Morrow has copies," the letter read, "I wrote it in long hand while on my way to Mexico in November to visit my friend, Mr. E. L. Jones. As I have already told you, my visit to Mexico was primarily for the purpose of visiting Jones, but he, in order to make sure that I would come to Mexico, cabled me that Morrow was anxious to see me about Cuba, in which Morrow has had much interest because of the close relations between J. P. Morgan & Co. and the Cuban Government in the matter of Government loans."

"I originally prepared the memorandum in order to clarify my ideas about the Cuban situation from a standpoint of personalities influential in Cuban affairs of today, and not intended to show the memo to anybody; but when Morrow heard of it from Jones he insisted on seeing it. He took the memo and had several copies made, returning to me the original memo and a carbon copy. The enclosure herewith is the Cuban copy which was typewritten in the American Embassy in Mexico."

Explaining this letter, Lakin said that he had understood that Morrow might be named Secretary of State and wanted to persuade him to adopt a definite policy towards Cuba. "I thought there was a misconception in the United States about Cuba," said Lakin, "and I wanted to present my views."

Lakin did not put much faith in the cable from Jones saying that Morrow was anxious to see him. "I think that was a put-up job to get me to come to Mexico," he said.

Sought Contacts in Congress. Considerable of the Lakin correspondence offered today related to the attempt of the Cuba Co. representatives to get in direct touch with Senators and Congressmen who might be able to help them block an increase in the present sugar rates.

Writing to Dr. Luis Machado, who he said was not a relative of President Machado of Cuba, Lakin said: "Meanwhile, there is one important thing that you might get under way through your du Pont connections, and that is to endeavor to persuade the Senators and the single Congressman from Delaware to act on behalf of Cuba. Of course, we should like to have them willing to champion the cause in the congressional debate, but if they are difficult to persuade, they might be difficult to persuade them to do that. On the other hand, it might be possible to persuade them that when the time comes to vote, they will vote in favor of Cuba."

"Private and confidential." Lakin said he had marked it in this manner to have it taken directly to Secretary Abell.

Lakin did not put much faith in the cable from Jones saying that Morrow was anxious to see him. "I think that was a put-up job to get me to come to Mexico," he said.

Sought Contacts in Congress. Considerable of the Lakin correspondence offered today related to the attempt of the Cuba Co. representatives to get in direct touch with Senators and Congressmen who might be able to help them block an increase in the present sugar rates.

Writing to Dr. Luis Machado, who he said was not a relative of President Machado of Cuba, Lakin said: "Meanwhile, there is one important thing that you might get under way through your du Pont connections, and that is to endeavor to persuade the Senators and the single Congressman from Delaware to act on behalf of Cuba. Of course, we should like to have them willing to champion the cause in the congressional debate, but if they are difficult to persuade, they might be difficult to persuade them to do that. On the other hand, it might be possible to persuade them that when the time comes to vote, they will vote in favor of Cuba."

Lakin identified Dr. Machado as a high Cuban official in the du Pont de Nemours & Co. Dr. Machado wrote to Irene du Pont, April 3, asking him to get in touch with Senator Hastings and Townsend and Congressman Houston of Delaware, in behalf of the Cuban sugar interests.

Conference Arranged With Edge. Lakin testified that former Gov. Stokes of New Jersey had arranged conferences with Senator Edge and Congressman Bacharach of New Jersey. Edge, before becoming Ambassador to France, was on the Senate Finance Committee, and Bacharach is still a member of the House Ways and Means Committee. These two committees handle the tariff bill.

The witness could not recall what interest Gov. Stokes had in the sugar schedule, although he got the impression that Stokes was very much wrought up over the matter.

Kept Check on Correspondents. The check the Cuba Co. officials kept on newspaper men and magazine writers afforded an amusing interlude in the hearing.

On a tip from W. H. Baldwin, a New York publicity agent, that L. C. Speers of the New York Times, and Myron Weiss of the weekly magazine, Time, would cover the

he had marked it in this manner to have it taken directly to Secretary Abell.

Morrow's Name Mentioned. The name of Dwight W. Morrow, American Ambassador to Cuba, was brought before the committee in a letter from Lakin to Shattuck.

"Included in a memorandum on Cuba of which Morrow has copies," the letter read, "I wrote it in long hand while on my way to Mexico in November to visit my friend, Mr. E. L. Jones. As I have already told you, my visit to Mexico was primarily for the purpose of visiting Jones, but he, in order to make sure that I would come to Mexico, cabled me that Morrow was anxious to see me about Cuba, in which Morrow has had much interest because of the close relations between J. P. Morgan & Co. and the Cuban Government in the matter of Government loans."

"I originally prepared the memorandum in order to clarify my ideas about the Cuban situation from a standpoint of personalities influential in Cuban affairs of today, and not intended to show the memo to anybody; but when Morrow heard of it from Jones he insisted on seeing it. He took the memo and had several copies made, returning to me the original memo and a carbon copy. The enclosure herewith is the Cuban copy which was typewritten in the American Embassy in Mexico."

Explaining this letter, Lakin said that he had understood that Morrow might be named Secretary of State and wanted to persuade him to adopt a definite policy towards Cuba. "I thought there was a misconception in the United States about Cuba," said Lakin, "and I wanted to present my views."

Lakin did not put much faith in the cable from Jones saying that Morrow was anxious to see him. "I think that was a put-up job to get me to come to Mexico," he said.

Judge Tells Restaurant Man He Should Have Thought of Running Honest Business Earlier.

Federal Judge Farris today declined to grant the plea of Julius Heinrich, a convicted liquor violator, that a Federal injunction prohibiting his restaurant at 201 North Second street for one year be canceled.

Heinrich, who appeared in court without counsel, said he had been operating a legitimate luncheon business since his release from jail last May and promised that he would never again engage in bootlegging.

"You should have thought about running an honest business before engaging in the liquor traffic," Judge Farris said in denying the plea.

"But, your Honor, I was only caught once," Heinrich said. "The testimony showed that prohibition agents bought liquor from you for four months." The judge said, "As a matter of fact I suspected that you sold unlawfully good liquor." Judge Farris allowed Heinrich 10 days in which to close his business before the padlock order, issued last Friday, becomes effective.

Heinrich was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $400 by Judge Farris last February on a plea of guilty of possession and sale of liquor. The case was one of those developed by Merritt Padlock, salesman for a wholesale paper house, who turned prohibition agent.

MICHIGAN KILLER REPORTED SEEN IN CHICAGO BY FRIEND

Fred Burke, Sought for Many Crimes, Recognized by Man He Used to Play Cards With.

DESPERADO LINKED WITH MORAN KILLINGS

Former St. Louis Gangster Also Charged With Detroit Kidnapings—Said to Have Made $1,000,000.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—Patrick Burke, chief investigator for the State's Attorney, made the announcement today: "Fred Burke will be arrested in Chicago by tonight."

He would say no more. Information that detectives had under surveillance the hiding place of the murderer, bank robber and accused Moran gang executioner.

At the same time Burke made known that the ownership of two machine guns found in Burke's bungalow at St. Joseph, Mich., after he had killed a policeman there Saturday, had been traced. Gun No. 2347, Roche said, was sold Nov. 12, 1924, to Deputy Sheriff Leslie Farmer of Marion, Ill., during disturbances there. Gun No. 2350 was traced to Victor Thompson of Elgin, Ill., who once before was questioned concerning the ownership of machine guns.

Thompson was understood to have sold the gun to P. Von Francis of Chicago. Both guns originally were purchased from a detective story publishing house here.

In Detroit, Burke was regarded as a man who taught the gunmen to become machine gunners; the man who gave lessons in kidnaping, the leader who made $1,000,000 from rackets and robberies.

Meanwhile, recognition of Burke in a downtown Chicago hotel by a man who used to play cards with him in St. Joseph, where Burke posed as a wealthy business man, only bore out previous theories of the Chicago police that Burke would seek hiding in this city, where he was once the expert machine gunner for the "Scarface" Al Capone gang and as such was in command of the St. Valentine's day murders.

The identification was made by William Hutchinson, of New Buffalo, Mich. "I could not have been mistaken," he said. "I know him very well. He is light on his feet and I knew in a flash that he recognized me. I got the impression he had held a weapon and was prepared to shoot me, if I tried to have him arrested."

Gangster Fred Burke, Robber, Killer, A Collegian, 'Polite, Tender-Hearted'

"Instead of Shooting Bank Cashier in Head, Like Anybody Else Would, He Deliberately Got Him in Leg," Companion in Holdup Explains.

Former Egan Gunman in St. Louis, Now Wanted for Murder of Policeman
in St. Joseph, Mich., Usually Passes as Business Man and Looks Part

FRED BURKE, former St. Louis gangster, sought throughout the country for murder and bank robberies, is a college man who took a postgraduate course in the underworld, a war veteran who learned all about machine guns in France and is accused of using one to shoot down seven gangsters in a Chicago garage.

Regarded only a few years ago
as a "gentlemanly, tender-hearted fellow," he murdered a policeman last Saturday in a trifling dispute at St. Joseph, Mich., where he was living in a Lake Shore bungalow which yielded $139,000 securities taken in a bank holdup at Jefferson, Wis., and an arsenal of machine guns, rifles and gas bombs.

"Fred Burke is too tender-hearted to get anywhere," complained a member of a St. Louis gang which robbed a Louisville bank in 1925. "A couple of us took pot-shots at the bank employees just for the fun of it. Fred was different. Instead of shooting the cashier in the head, like anybody else would, Fred deliberately shot him in the leg, putting him out of action."

Ignored Part of Motto.
Twelve years ago, on the occasion of his first arrest in St. Louis, Burke offered this philosophy:
"Any man wanting to put over anything crooked is a fool to be incumbered by either a woman or a cripple."

He lived up to half of this philosophy. No cripples, but many women, have incumbered his criminal career. In fact, he was driving to the St. Joseph, Mich., railroad station to meet his latest sweetheart when he shot a policeman to escape arrest for a small automobile collision. The woman, known as Viola Dane, is under arrest; Burke is at large, with $50,000 in rewards for his capture, dead or alive.

Burke, a confident man at one stage of his career, rejoiced that he did not look, dress or talk as ordinary "dope and dope" gangsters.
The pose of business man which he so often assumed enabled him to stop overnight at an Elks club before committing one bank holdup.

"Soft-spoken like a woman, with the build of a p-fighter," is a fitting description of the man called by Inspector Garvin of the Detroit bomb squad: "Leader of the most desperate band of outlaws in the country, none of whom, I believe, will ever be taken alive."

Wears Expensive Clothing.
Lacking an inch of being 6 feet tall, he carried his 200 pounds well.
He wears expensive clothes, of fine texture but not flashy. His hair is medium brown, his eyes greenish-yellow with a slight cast in the right eye.

Burke was perhaps the only St.
Louis gangster who affected a mustache.
His police pictures were taken at times when he was without that adornment.

"What I remember most of him are his eyes and very agreeable manner," recalled one St. Louis police executive. "When arrested and questioned, he was not sullen and defiant like most gangsters. He was courteous and answered all questions, not necessarily truthfully.
But before answering, he used to pause and study his questioner with his peculiar, deadly eyes."

"It's easy to understand how he passed as a prosperous business man. They say he's hiding in the Chicago underworld now, but I wouldn't be surprised if he were staying in a nice hotel somewhere, maybe at a winter resort."

By his own admissions the son of a well-to-do grocer in Lincoln,
Nebr., and a graduate of Nebraska University, Frederick R. Burke, to use his full name, was a salesman and real estate dealer before going into the underworld of Kansas City and St. Louis.

At the age of 22, he was arrested by St. Louis police in 1917 as he was about to obtain $1250 from a Chestnut street real estate dealer on a forged deed of trust. As usual, he was getting up a reputation and had posted the bond at the request of Thomas Kearney, 409 Walnut street, St.
Louis, who put up securities to guarantee the bond and paid the forfeiture.

Kearney, betting commissioner and cigar dealer at the Walnut street address, told a Post-Dispatch reporter he did not recall arranging the bond for Burke or even knowing the man. He admitted an acquaintance with Daugherty and the Farina twins went to prison.

The Louisville prosecuting attorney was indignant over the fact that Burke's bond had been posted by a surety company through its St. Louis agency. He wrote to St.
Louis police: "I don't understand why a reputable insurance company will go on a bond of such a defendant, who has been so often released, commits robberies of banks and other parties whom they are insuring."

Surety Firm's Explanation.
The surety firm hastened to explain
it was unaware of Burke's reputation and had posted the who was arrested in St. Joseph, had killed a policeman.

ed at the wheel of the automobiles
in which escapes were made.

Credited with killing Frankie Yale, gang leader of New York, Burke moved on to Chicago, where last St. Valentine's day the most atrocious crime in gang annals was committed: seven gangsters being lined against a garage wall and shot to death with machine guns.

"Some of the machine gunners were police uniforms, it was reported, which is curious, as a St. Louis policeman's revolver was found in Burke's possession on one of his local arrests. Unable to explain this, the policeman was suspended.

Alleged to have received $10,000 for the St. Valentine's day killings, Burke has been sought ever since
by Chicago authorities.

He appeared next on Nov. 7,
when a bank at Jefferson, Wis., was looted. Burke and Winkler were identified as among the robbers, but they could not be found.

$15,000 Loot Found.
With the $139,000 bank loot securities stored in his luxurious furnished bungalow at St. Joseph, Mich., Burke lived as Fred Dane, posting at a wealthy owner of a chain of gasoline filling stations.
His neighbors never guessed he really dealt in machine guns and murder. He did not tell them, as he told others, that he had been experts with machine guns
while fighting in France.

Then came the minor traffic accident.
Rather than pay $5 damages or submit to arrest, he shot a policeman to death and made a sensational escape, after which the bank loot and arsenal were seized and "Mrs. Dane" arrested.

"Fred Burke must have gone mad," is the general opinion of those who knew him, when in St. Louis
he was termed "tender-hearted Burke."

SHIPPER INSISTS WATERMELON
IS VEGETABLE, NOT FRUIT

So the Interstate Commerce Commission Has Another Agricultural Problem on Its Hands.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—A plea to the Interstate Commerce Commission, in behalf of a Louisiana business house disagreeing with the Missouri Pacific and other railroads that some produce freight bills, presents a ticklish question.

"It is now necessary to determine beyond a doubt whether a watermelon is a fruit or a vegetable,"
the formal pleading recites in raising the issue. "We have traced the origin of watermelon to its root,
and we find that it is a vegetable,
as such a green vegetable as the cucumber, the squash or the pumpkin."

This forecasts the approach of a controversy, in behalf of railroads, endeavoring to establish the watermelon's character as a fruit. Unless the commission can find some method of dodging the issue and at the same time settling the controversy over the freight bill, it will have to deal with this agricultural puzzle as well.

JUDGE DIFFERENTIATES MANNERS AND MORALS

New York Jury So Instructed Finds Broker Guilty of Misconduct.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—A jury which had been instructed not to confuse loose manners with loose morals today found Ray E. Arnold, wealthy investment broker,
guilty of misconduct in a divorce suit brought by Mrs. Beattie Arnold.
With the exception of one charge
on which it was unable to agree, the jury exonerated her of similar charges preferred by him in a counter suit.

The jury deliberated 11 hours.
It found Arnold guilty on two questions of misconduct with Mrs.
Margaret Crenshaw West, Crestwood, N. Y., widow of Stuart P.
West, financial writer. On another question involving Mrs. West it failed to agree.

It exonerated Mrs. Arnold on all charges except one which involved misconduct with Charles J.
Hann Jr., one of her lawyers. Arnold had also charged her with misconduct with the late Charles Fritchard.

A motion to set the verdict aside
on the ground of insufficient evidence and order a new trial was made in behalf of Mrs. West. Justice Philip J. McCook set Saturday for argument on the motion.
If he denies the motion, he will take up the question of granting a divorce.

In his charge to the jury, Justice McCook stressed that social conditions and manners change from era to era.

"You should not draw an inference of guilt when you can draw an inference of innocence," he said.
"What may have seemed conclusive proof of guilt once does not now. Do not confuse loose manners with loose morals."

The Court ruled out 18 of 31
questions, including all accusations against Martha Crenshaw, 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. West, who was named as a co-respondent with her mother.

Arnold's 19-year-old son, WILLIAM, testified that when he returned from Europe in 1927 he lived in his father's apartment in East Sixty-seventh street and that Mrs. West also resided there for a time.

Testimony fixed Arnold's wealth at $3,500,000 and his annual income at $100,000. In addition to his son, the pair have two daughters, Raella, 14, and Mrs. Bernice Monks.

1850 MILL BEING TORN DOWN

The Dunstetter Mill in Edwardsville, the last of the old mills in that community, is being torn down to make way for a new building.

The mill was built in 1850 and has served at various times as a flour and cornmeal mill, for the manufacture of molasses, cider, wine, yeast, and as a machine shop.

$300,000 that the younger Huckins checked out of his bank accounts in Cedar Rapids about a wanted to get out of the scheme.

Thompson is not certain, however,
that the money reached investors.

WOMAN HAS TULAREMIA; CUT FINGER WHEN DRESSING RABBIT

Mrs. Oliver Gulon, 7711 Vermont avenue, was taken yesterday to City Hospital, where she was pronounced suffering from tularemia, a disease communicated by rabbits. Her husband said she had cut her finger with a knife when preparing a rabbit for dinner Nov. 26. Two days later she became ill, he said.

One other case of the disease has been reported here in St. Louis this winter and several persons from nearby towns have been brought here for treatment.

WIFE SHOTS SELF, FARMER KILLS HER ALLEGED ADMIRER

Arkansas Woman Tries to End Life After Mother-in-Law Follows Her to Rendezvous.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

IMBODEN, Ark., Dec. 18.—Hubert Burrow, 21-year-old farm youth, is dead and Mrs. Byron Perkins, 20, is seriously wounded as a result of the alleged discovery Monday that Mrs. Perkins, wife of a farmer near here, had been receiving attentions from Burrow, son of neighbors.

Mrs. Perkins shot herself after her mother-in-law had accused her of misconduct. Her husband shot Burrow to death yesterday morning in a store at Ravenden.

According to officers who investigated the shooting, Mrs. Perkins is said to have been meeting Burrow secretly for some time. Although her husband's parents suspected this, Perkins was unaware of the situation, it is said.

Monday Perkins came to Imboden, with his father, leaving his wife with her mother-in-law. The elder Mrs. Perkins says she followed her daughter-in-law to her meeting place with Burrow and compelled her to return to the house. There the younger woman secured a pistol and shot herself through the left breast.

Her husband, returning home in time to hear the shot, brought the wounded woman to Imboden for medical treatment. From here she was taken to the hospital at Jonesboro this morning.

Perkins then is said to have trailed Burrow to a store at Ravenden. Before five other men in the place, he berated Burrow and shot him down.

Returning to Imboden, he surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Clements and was taken to the county jail at Walnut Ridge.

Perkins has a child a year old.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. — Billy Montgomery, who with his wife drew $1000 a week on the Broadway stage when that was important money 20 years ago, yesterday pleaded guilty of petty larceny.

A department store detective alleged Montgomery tried on a new suit and overcoat Saturday and after changing, walked out, neglecting to pay for the clothing. His old suit was left in the dressing room. Judge Healy retained Montgomery to the Tombs for sentencing Monday.

ALLEGED VICTIM ON STAND DENIES TORTURE MURDER

10 days ago to testify for the defense.

Asked the reason, he replied: "I didn't want the whole world to know who I was and that I had been in the insane asylum."

He admitted on the stand he was married, but said he had been separated from his wife for several years.

"Were you divorced?" asked the Prosecutor. He answered he was not.

"Then, why were you planning to marry Tillar Rumlner on that night last March before, you say, you left St. James?" "How do you know I was aiming to marry her?" said the witness.

He said he first learned that five years were charged with murdering him only a week before he left a Humphrey (Ark.) farm to come here as a defense witness.

Preceding him to the stand today were his mother, Mrs. Lily Baker of Charleston, Ark., who said she had seen him infrequently during the last five years because of his desire to wander, and Mrs. M. M. Bryant of Humphrey, on whose farm he was working when defense counsel found him.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., Dec. 18.—While rain splattered against the yellow rock walls and tiny windows of the Stone County courthouse last night and intermittent flashes of lightning threw an eerie blue glow on the faces of the crowd in the bar, dimly lighted corridors, three farmers and a young laborer, defendants in the strange Connie Franklin murder trial, took the witness stand and testified there had been no Connie Franklin murder.

A day of testimony left that question up in the air. The witnesses, no state witness has definitely testified that a murder was committed. And the defense, as has been told, has produced a man who says he is Connie Franklin and denies he ever had even a cross word with the defendants.

Shock-haired Joe White, 33-year-old farmer who looks 18 years younger and who apparently has been the most worried of the defendants was the first of them to testify yesterday. Like those who followed, he gave a circumstantial account of his actions March 9 last, the day of the alleged murder.

Says he didn't see Connie that day was hauling bolts for a mill this side of Red Sticks that day," he said. "I had been cutting them up in the woods. Connie worked for me awhile earlier in the year. I thought I had enough cut and it came on to rain, so I quit hauling."

"I was home that night. I didn't see any of those folks until the next day, Sunday. Not Connie, nor Tillar (Tillar Rumlner), the State's star witness, who declares she was attacked by two of the defendants after they beat Connie, her fiancée and escort, into unconsciousness, nor Alec, nor Hubert, nor Bill" (other principals in the case).

Hearing a rumor that Connie Franklin and Tillar were to be married, White continued, he started to go to visit them but decided "it was too far up in the day to go before dinner so after dinner and my woman got on some mules and rode over to see them. Tillar was there but said Connie had just stepped off for awhile."

"Have you seen him since then?" he was asked.

"I saw him just the other day at the jail."

Questioned About Identity.

"Was that the name Connie Franklin who was around here last spring?"

"I don't know that his name is Connie Franklin, but the man I saw at the jail is the man who worked for me last winter."

Girl Called to Stand.

Tillar Rumlner, a thick-legged young mountain girl with rouge smeared thickly on her cheeks, wearing a borrowed dress, a red hat, wrinkled tan stockings and muddy high-heeled shoes, was called to the stand early in the afternoon. As was the case with the other soft-voiced residents of this Ozark mountain region, her testimony could not be heard more than a few feet from the witness stand. Like the others, she stammered her r's and spoke in incomplete sentences. She is 17 years old and has worked throughout the St. James neighborhood as a field hand, cotton chopper and maid of all work.

She told of going to Greenway's home March 8 at the invitation of Mrs. J. Greenway, Franklin, who had been courting her, was there when she arrived. He talked to her about marriage. She wanted to wait until fall, she related, but Franklin wanted to get married at once, and she consented. The next morning they went to get a license, she continued.

"Connie Hubert and Herman went together, riding a mule," she said. "They got back about 9 o'clock. They didn't have a license."

Tillar's story of Connie. That night after supper, apparently unconcerned that her prospective bridegroom had gone out to procure a license, she instead had spent the day in drinking and falling off a mule. Tillar went out with Connie seeking a Justice of the Peace, she said. The man they were looking for had gone to town, to a show. At a midnoll a mile from Greenway's home, she testified, they were stopped by Hostler, Greenway, White and Rumlner.

"What happened then?" she was asked. "They got into some kind of a racket and all started beating Connie."

"Who hit him first?" "Hubert." "What with?" "Fist of course, I think."

"What happened then?" "Connie fell down." "Did he say anything?" "Oh, yes, he said 'me'." "Was he still breathing?" "Yes, just like he was asleep." "Hubert and Herman took me up on the hill." "Did they say anything to you at that time?" "No, sir. Two days later Hubert stopped me and said 'They would get me next if I told.' He showed me some, brown knuckles and said, 'These are what killed Connie Franklin. You'll never see him any more.'"

TEXAS PETROLEUM PRODUCTION DECLINES FOR FOURTH MONTH
By the Associated Press.
AUSTIN, Tex.—Production of crude petroleum in Texas showed a decline in November for the fourth successive month, according to Bernard Nichols of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.
During the month, 34,320,000 barrels were produced compared with 37,342,000 barrels in October, Nichols said. "Production fell off considerably more in the final week of the month than in the first, indicating that the trend is still downward," he added. In the four-month period, output has diminished about 32,000 barrels a day. Although the rate of decline is slow, it is an encouraging feature, especially if the curtailment continues. A similar downward trend is taking place in other large producing states."

PATROLMAN BEATEN AT NEGRO RESORT

Robert A. Meyer Suspended Pending Inquiry Into Free-
for-All Fight.

Probationary Patrolman Robert A. Meyer, Angelica Street District, has been suspended pending an investigation of the circumstances under which he fired four shots while on duty and received a severe beating early today at the Green Turtle, a Negro resort at the foot of Locust street.

Meyer's superior officers have received three versions of the affair. Upon applying at City Hospital at 3:20 a. m. for treatment for cuts of the head and face, Meyer related a passerby told him there was a fight at the Green Turtle, while he was chatting with Harold Miller, an advertising solicitor, at Broadway and Chestnut street. Although in civilian attire and off duty Meyer said he hurried to the cafe in Miller's car. Upon entering Meyer said he displayed his police badge and was immediately attacked. He fired four shots from his revolver in an effort to intimidate his assailants, he said, but was struck with bottles and forced to retreat.

John "Deedy" Spice, manager of the cafe, who was later arrested, with 26 Negro men and women, told a different story. According to the Negroes, Meyer and Miller forced their way into the cafe and demanded whisky. When told by Spice that whisky was not served there Meyer is alleged to have drawn his revolver and fired four shots. A general melee followed during which Meyer was struck, and Albert Gentry, a Negro customer dived through a glass door, suffering cuts of the body and hands.

Miller told police he and Meyer mistook the Green Turtle for the Bohemian Club, on Commercial street, and were met with a shower of bottles and glasses before they could explain the mistake.

Meyer, who is 25 years old and resides at 2805 Olive avenue, has been a policeman since June, 1928. He remained at City Hospital.

DOCTOR'S DEGREE IN BANDITRY

Entirely Proper in U. S., Mexican Paper Comments.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 18.—"Our modest banditry" is the way the newspaper Excelsior describes the disturbers of law and order in Mexico after comparing such armed disturbances of the peace with bank robberies and bombings frequently reported in American cities.

A editorial writer says the fineness of the modern American holiday may qualify him for the title of "doctor" in his own particular art. He asks what Mexicans would think if a band of men armed with machine guns were to descend on the Bank of Mexico and make off with its treasure. The editorial was inspired by an American reporter's question to President-elect Ortiz Rubio, asking whether banditry had been curbed in Mexico.

POPE GETS COPY OF DINNER SET USED BY FREDERICK THE GREAT

Gift sent him in honor of Jubilee Year by President Hindenburg of Germany.

Special Cable to Post-Dispatch.

ROME, Dec. 18.—Thousands of gifts are pouring in from all parts of the world to Pope Pius XI, who is celebrating his jubilee year. A dinner service of Berlin porcelain, exact copy of the famous red service used by Frederick the Great of Prussia in 1763. There are 600 pieces in the set. It took six months to make it.

DENIES THAT JEWS DRIVE ARABS FROM BEST FARM LANDS

President of Farmers' Association in Palestine Says Hebrews Buy Uncultivated Areas.

Special Cable to Post-Dispatch and New York World.

JERUSALEM, Dec. 18.—Council for the Zionists yesterday was challenged before the British commission investigating the causes of last summer's disorders in Palestine witnesses who sought to demolish the Arab charge that Zionists' colonization in the Holy Land has impoverished the small Arab cultivators by driving them from the rich lands of the plains to the shallow lands of the hillsides.

Among the Jewish farmers to take the stand, was Moshe Smilansky, president of the Jewish Farmers' Association and author of many sketches of Arab peasant life, who came to Palestine 40 years ago and has become a prosperous orange grower. He seemed to impress the commission with his knowledge of economics and social conditions.

It was not for agitators Jewish relations with the Arabs would improve yearly, he said. Perhaps some of the Arabian youths in the cities are genuinely patriotic in opposing the establishment of a Jewish homeland here, he argued, but they misunderstand economic problems and do not realize that, with Jewish aid, Palestine can be reconstructed in a way that would otherwise be impossible.

Duty of Government.

"The duty of the Government and of the Jews is to educate the Arabs to this idea; but the Government must be firm and not allow a small number of mischief makers to come between the best elements of the population."

The witness disagreed with the report of the Haycraft Commission, made after the riots of 1921; that the agitators are only one of numerous causes of Arab unrest, contending that his 40 years experience with Arabs makes him a better judge of Arab psychology than the commission.

Contrasting Arab villages some distance from Jewish colonies with these near them, the witness said the former are still as backward as they were 40 years ago, while the latter, benefiting from the sale of part of their land to the Jews, have dug wells, improved their land, introduced modern methods of farming and taken to the lucrative cultivation of oranges.

Farmers and Landlords.

Smilansky estimated that the Jews cultivated about 12,000 acres of orange land and the Arabs 8000, of which 4000 are cultivated by fellahs, or peasants, and 4000 by landlords, or large land holders. In accordance with the feudal system in vogue the fellahs remit to the landlord 20 per cent of his crop for the privilege of cultivating the land.

Quick Relief for Common Coughs, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up severe coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief in a hurry.

From any drugstore, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Then you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germs, glazes phlegm and causes chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of incipient bronchial coughs and other severe coughs due to colds.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

BYRD FOOT PARTY CAMPS IN MELTING SNOW; TENTS LEAK

Warm Weather Makes Sledging Difficult, Dr. Gould Reports From Queen Maud Mountains.

By RUSSELL OWEN.

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times and the Post-Dispatch.)

This story is scheduled regularly in the Post-Dispatch. All news articles or items appearing in this column are the property of the Post-Dispatch.

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, Dec. 17.—A message yesterday from Dr. Laurence Gould, head of the Byrd geological party in the Queen Maud Mountains, says:

"Still snowing, and no prospect of immediate change in weather. Sledges nearly buried in snow, dogs lying in holes and our tents half covered. Everything wet and soggy, for it is warm and there is much melting. Hope your roofs do not leak like our tents."

"Not 40 below zero, but this kind of weather makes sledging hard work. Left our few books at Camp Strom. Have one deck of cards and play hearts and bridge for chocolate as pastime. Mountains on three sides of us, but can see nothing. Everything in high spirits in spite of weather."

It has been warm at Little America also, and wherever there is any dirt on the surface the snow has melted to mush. Today it is 23 above zero, although the sky is partly overcast.

The radiation thermometers, which act as collectors of heat from the sun and show the sun's intensity, registered 120 degrees Fahrenheit today when the sun came out for a short time.

These must not be confused with the ordinary thermometers, as the mercury is held in a black bulb in a vacuum. They vary with the moisture in the air and the height of the sun. Today is by far the warmest day we have had outdoors.

Boy Scout With Byrd Is 21 Today; Informed of Promotion.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—In Antarctica, as the youngest member of the Byrd expedition, Paul A. Siple, member of the Sea Scout division of the Boy Scouts of America, is celebrating today his twenty-first birthday. On the way to Siple as a birthday token, but not due to reach him until the Byrd supply ship arrives, is his commission as a mate of the Sea Scout ship, Niagara, of Erie, Pa. The Sea Scout can be commissioned a mate until he is 21 years old.

The commission, dated today, was made out several weeks ago and is accompanied by a letter from Chief Scout Executive James E. West to Commander Byrd asking the latter to present the commissioning.

Today, through the New York Times radio station, a message conveying the birthday congratulations of the Boy Scouts of America will go from Daniel Carter Beard, National Scout Commissioner, to Siple, for the first time informing the Sea Scout of his promotion to mate.

Commissioner Beard's message reads: "Dan Beard speaking. The last time I talked to you over the radio was in the presence of your own parents, but it seems that an Antarctic blizzard froze my words. When they thaw out, some day, you may hear them."

"But seriously, Paul, I feel very highly honored to be the first person to congratulate you on your appointment today as first mate of the regional Sea Scout flagship Niagara of Erie, Pa. It is not often that a Sea Scout is so honored on the first day of his majority."

"We told the thousands of boys at the Roosevelt pilgrimage all about you. The executive board and headquarters staff join me in extending you congratulations. Your credentials are now on the way to Antarctica enclosed in a letter to Commander Byrd."

"May I take this occasion to extend to your gallant leader and Viking, Commander Byrd, the hearty congratulations and Christmas greetings of all the Boy Scouts and Scout officials of America? And, oh, say! Don't forget to bring back a coop of penguins and a school of killer whales. You will need them to guard you on the flagship Niagara."

Several Policemen Injured in Clash With Crowd; Many Shops Closed.

By the Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Germany, Dec. 18.—Thousands of unemployed last night made a demonstration in the vicinity of City Hall while the city fathers were meeting to discuss granting Christmas relief to them. The entire police force was called out and formed a cordon around the hall to prevent disorders.

Several policemen and demonstrators were injured in the clashes. Two policemen were hit by bricks thrown from a building. Many shops along the route of the demonstration were closed.

ALDERMEN DEBATE

TERMINAL'S BRIDGE

DEAL WITH CITY

Question Raised as to Cost of Approaches—Krueger Fears Another White Elephant.

PUBLIC HEARINGS WILL BE HELD

Neun Contrasts Mayor's Measure With 1927 Proposal for Exchange of Uses.

Beginning discussion of Mayor Miller's bill for use of the Municipal Bridge by the Terminal Railroad Association and the lease of the upper deck of Eads Bridge by the city, the special bridge committee of the Board of Aldermen yesterday afternoon raised several questions as to the effect of the proposed measure.

After the entire bill had been read to the committee by the chairman, Walter J. G. Neun, president of the Board of Aldermen, and members had commented on various sections, the committee decided to hold another meeting early in January for further discussion and then to hold public hearings on the bill.

Contrasts Two Measures.

President Neun pointed out the differences between the Mayor's bill and the bridge exchange measure introduced in the board in 1927. The 1927 bill not only would have granted a franchise to the Terminal for use of the Municipal Bridge, he said, but would have extended other franchises of the Terminal for 50 years, and in return the Terminal agreed to eliminate certain grade crossings and to spend a large amount for improvements.

Under that measure the city was to have use of the railroad deck of Eads Bridge and the tunnel as well as of the upper deck, and the Terminal was to have use of the Municipal Bridge without further payment. Under the pending proposal the Terminal is to pay the regular charges for use of the Municipal Bridge as fixed in the several bridge ordinances, and the city is to pay $208,000 a year rental on Eads Bridge.

The Terminal then would receive permission to build necessary approaches to enable it to make full use of the municipal bridge, the city agreeing to purchase the approaches by applying on the purchase price any excess from the rentals paid by the Terminal over the amount necessary to pay the rental and maintenance on the upper deck of Eads Bridge and interest on the Terminal's investment in the approaches.

Cost of Approaches Questioned.

The amount to be expended for approaches was a point upon which several of the Aldermen desired further information. Alderman Reifling thought that without specific limitations in the ordinance the Terminal might spend such large amounts that the city's income from the Terminal's rentals would not be sufficient to pay the interest and the Eads Bridge rental and maintenance, in which case the city would have to meet the additional expense out of general revenue.

The bill as drawn does not specify what the Terminal shall expend for approaches, but does provide that plans and estimates of cost of the approaches must be approved by the Board of Public Service before construction is begun.

Alderman Krueger feared that in taking over the Eads Bridge upper deck the city would have two white elephants in its hands instead of one. He said it might be better to arrange with the Terminal to use the municipal bridge and then after it is definitely known what revenue the city has available from the rentals and what the interest charges will amount to, to negotiate the Eads Bridge lease separately.

In any event, Krueger said, the committee should ascertain from the Terminal's engineers, and from independent engineering counsel, what the outside estimates of cost of the approaches would be.

Krueger was of the opinion the Eads bridge deal would be of value only to the downtown stores and would not be of widespread benefit to the city. He suggested that if the city does lease Eads bridge, it might continue for a time to charge the existing vehicle and pedestrian tolls, which it would have the right to do, but President Neun took the position it would be of vast benefit to the city as a whole to have the tolls eliminated. He added that he would like to see the tolls charged street car passengers removed, although this is not provided for in the bill.

Tolls for Trolley Riders.

The street railway lines using the bridge has a long-term lease for which it pays the Terminal about $225,000 a year, and the pending bill provides that arrangement is not to be disturbed. The city could remove the charge on street car passengers only by absorbing this additional cost.

The questions of the differential in the freight tariffs charged by the railroads on traffic hauled across the river was raised by Alderman Krueger.

I. C. C. HEARING JAN. 23

ON O'FALLON VALUATION

To Listen to Arguments on Principles to Be Followed as Result of Court Ruling.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today notified parties to the controversy over railroad valuation that it would hear argument in Washington Jan. 23 on the principles to be followed in fixing a valuation on the St. Louis & O'Fallon Railway and its associated carrier, the Manufacturers Railway of St. Louis.

The O'Fallon line was carried by the commission and selected as a vehicle for testing the validity of the commission's principles of valuing railroads, and when the Supreme Court passed on the case last spring, the commission was ordered to alter its program. The Court held in substance that the commission had failed to give sufficient value to estimated reproduction costs and remanded the case for further proceedings.

By setting the date for argument today, the commission instituted a step looking to compliance with the Court's decision. The argument will deal with the degree of revision that will have to be made in present valuation methods.

ALDERMEN DEBATE

derman Clarence Kaufmann. He wished to know if consignees would continue to pay $5 a car on this account, while the city's charge would be $1 a loaded car. He was told the differential in the freight rate was fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission and could be changed only by it.

The general bridge ordinance, however, provides that railroads using the bridge must keep accurate accounts of the cost of crossing segregated from other costs and that if it should be found that savings effected through use of the Municipal Bridge would justify lower charges in the freight rate they will apply to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a reduction.

The general bridge ordinance also provides that after bridge is in full use the charges to the railroads are to be adjusted on the basis of rates that will provide only enough to meet interest, maintenance charges, taxes and cost of operation. In this connection Alderman Krueger asked if the application of part of the revenue to rental and maintenance of Eads Bridge upper deck would be a violation of the ordinance and grounds for complaint by other railroads not in the Terminal Association.

None of the members of the committee expressed definite opposition to the general principles of the bill, and Chairman Neun asked them to maintain open minds on it until it had been fully discussed. He emphasized the duty of the committee to see that the interests of the city are fully protected.

Besides Neun, Reifling and Krueger the committee members are Edward W. Wiehe, Thomas S. Watta, George Meisinger, John A. Fett, Ralph H. Eilers, William J. Studt, William Hoeftle and Edward L. Kuhs.

HOUSE AUTHORIZES HOOVER TO MAKE INQUIRY IN HAITI

Resolution Carrying Out President's Wish Sent to Senate for Action.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The House today voted to authorize President Hoover to appoint a commission of seven to study the situation in Haiti for six months and report the resolution to the Senate. The resolution, introduced by Representative Oscar de Priest, Negro Republican, was his first regular speech in Congress today in support of President Hoover's request for a commission. He gained the floor after several Southern Democrats had expressed opposition to American policies in the island republic and after Representative Moore of Virginia had accused Representative Fish (Rep.), New York, of having injected the race question into the issue. Fish had suggested that some member of the commission be a Negro. De Priest said that Congress should aid the chief executive in obtaining the information he wanted on his step to solve the problem and said Hoover was the best qualified President the nation had ever had. The speech was applauded in the Republican section.

Dedering he favored the Porter resolution, Representative Fish said the "dictatorship" set up in Haiti by the United States Marines was one of the worst in the history of the world. "I don't want the Marines withdrawn, but to be used to help the Haitians," he said.

SURRENDERED SLAYER RETURNED FROM EAST

Charles Wurtz Had Told Wash-ton (Pa.) Police He Killed Wife Here.

Charles Wurtz, 26 years old, a laborer, who surrendered at Washington, Pa., last Saturday on a charge of killing his wife, Marie,
at her home, 2225 South Third street, June 24, 1926, was returned to St. Louis yesterday.

Wurtz declared his conscience forced him to surrender, although saying that the shooting of his wife was an accident.

"I married her when she was 18 and we quarreled because she went out with other fellows in automobiles and on motorcycles," Wurtz explained. "She went to her mother's home, and I lived with my parents. I was working steady as a chauffeur for the American Car & Foundry Co. and thought she should quit running around.
The night she was killed I went to her mother's house and told her I was going to get a divorce. We were alone in the kitchen. When I started to leave she got a revolver I had given her for protection when we were living together and told me not to go. I struggled with her and the revolver was discharged and she fell to the floor.
I ran out taking the revolver with me."

Wurtz said he threw the revolver in the Mississippi River and slept in a dump of weeds that night. Next day he heard his description broadcast over the radio and left for Detroit, Mich. He later went to Gray Summit, Mo., and worked in railroad shops for four months. Subsequently he journeyed to Kansas City, Omaha, Neb., and then went east, picking up odd jobs in Pittsburg, Pa.
"My conscience kept bothering me and finally I just had to get this thing off my mind or go crazy, so I walked into the county jail at Washington, Pa., and told them I was wanted in St. Louis."

When he gave himself up Wurtz was attired in overalls and had 45 cents in his pockets.

servatory today registered a distinct earthquake lasting two hours and thought to be in the direction of the Aleutian Islands.

An earthquake yesterday shook the east-west recording needle off the roll of a similar instrument at the University of Washington. University seismologists said the quake epicenter had been in the North Pacific Ocean or in the Aleutian Islands.

APPEALS FOR ZIONIST FUND

New Yorker Says Fate of Jews in Holy Land Rests With Americans.

The fate of Jews in the Holy Land rests with American Jewry, Maurice Samuel of New York, said in an appeal for the Zionist Fund
at the Temple Israel last night.
Arabian political leaders incited
the Jewish-Arab riots last summer, Samuel said, although some of the Arabs were friendly to their Jewish neighbors and protected them.
Samuel described the rioting and said that American Jewry should colonize the homeland and contribute to its support, averting further outbreaks.

DRIVER WHO KILLED CHILD INDICTED FOR LEAVING SCENE

Clarence Egholm Driver of Truck
That Ran Down Andrew Boyer.

Clarence Egholm, 31 years old,
a pastry cook, 1822 Menard street, who fled after his truck killed Andrew Boyer, 4 years old, 1904 Gerard street, on Nov. 5, last, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of feloniously leaving the scene of the accident. A manslaughter charge was considered also, but a no true bill was voted on that charge.

Egholm surrendered to the police on Dec. 3. He refused to discuss his case at that time.

Witnesses at the coroner's inquest said the truck Egholm was driving after hitting the boy carreened out of control, crashed into the curb and overturned. William Zada, who was riding with Eg-holm at the time, testified he was going about 35 miles an hour and that when both realized what had been done they ran from the scene.

GOODFELLOW AV. WIDENING PROJECT BEATEN BY THE VOTE

Alderman Wimer Protests in Com-

Special Taxes.

A bill to widen Goodfellow ave-

Aldermanic Streets Committee by a three-to-two vote today after Alderman Samuel Wimer, Twenty-

seventh Ward, protested against the bill, asserting the taxpayers had enough special tax bills to meet already.

Wimer's objection caused Alderman Pett, chairman of the committee, to accuse him angrily.
"You're playing politics with pub-

ward," Alderman Pett, Krueger and William F. Nischelsohn voted to report the bill favorably, while

R. SHAD BENNETT ARRESTED BUT SET FREE IN ILLINOIS

St. Louis Attorney Taken in Custody in East St. Louis on Old Charge on Leaving Federal Court.

R. Shad Bennett, St. Louis attorney, who was arrested on an old charge of attempt to murder by St. Clair County Deputy Sheriff yesterday afternoon on leaving the East St. Louis Federal Court and taken to Murphyboro, was promptly released when an attorney for Sheriff Flanagan at Murphyboro advised the Sheriff that the arrest might be construed by Federal Judge Wham, before whom Bennett appeared yesterday, as contempt of court.

Bennett has successfully evaded arrest under the indictment, returned by a Jackson County (Ill.) grand jury last July, following which Gov. Emmerson of Illinois refused to issue a requisition for the extradition of Bennett on the ground he was not in Illinois when the alleged crime was committed and, therefore, could not be classed as a fugitive.

The charge is based on an assertion that Bennett employed a St. Louis man to kill Ole King, bankrupt West Frankfort meat dealer, on whose life Bennett held life insurance policies for $20,000 to secure a loan of $12,500. Bennett has always denied the charge and has avoided going to Illinois, where he would be subject to arrest, except when he found it necessary to appear in the East St. Louis Federal Court in connection with the King bankruptcy.

Protested Against Arrest. It was a Federal Court proceeding that took Bennett to East St. Louis yesterday. He was seeking to amend a foreclosure suit against King's property in the bankruptcy action. After a conference with Judge Wham he left the court and on reaching the street was arrested by the St. Clair County Deputy Sheriff, who took him by automobile to Murphyboro over his protests, that he was immune from arrest by reason of his appearance in the bankruptcy action.

His protests were ignored by the officers and when he renewed them to Sheriff Flanagan, the latter conferred with an attorney, who advised that Bennett be released. "My first information that Bennett was in Illinois was a telephone message yesterday from the St. Clair County Sheriff inquiring whether we still wanted Bennett," said Sheriff Flanagan today. "I told him yes. I was not told Bennett was attending court, and when Bennett raised the point of immunity and threatened a contempt proceeding, we decided to release him at once and wait for another day. If he ever appears in Illinois on other than Federal Court business he will be arrested and brought here to answer the charges of attempt to murder and conspiracy to murder in the King case."

Returns to St. Louis. Bennett, who lives at 6200 McPherson avenue, returned to his home last night from Murphyboro.

Charles Lowe of St. Louis, doing private detective work, gave the first information of the alleged conspiracy against King's life. He told St. Clair detectives that Bennett had employed him to kill King. This information was passed to Sheriff Flanagan and he had King go into hiding, after abandoning his automobile, so it would appear he had been killed. As part of the plan to trap Bennett, Sheriff Flanagan gave reports to newspapers that King probably had been slain and King's wife played the part of a widow even to receiving floral tributes as tokens of consolation. Lowe asserted Bennett gave him $250 on account and promised more money.

Bennett was in Florida at the time and on his return to St. Louis was arrested, but released when Gov. Emmerson refused to honor the application for extradition papers.

CHAIR IN WHICH LINCOLN SAT WHEN HE WAS SHOT IS SOLD

It and Three Other Relics of the Assassination Brought $2400 at New York.

with his assassination, brought $2400 in an auction of books, autographs and other articles last night at the American-Anderson galleries. The Lincoln items went to J. Back, a private collector. The chair, a black walnut rocker, upholstered in red damask; the play bill Lincoln held on his knee when he was shot; the cord and tassel which held back the curtain as the President, might see the stage, and a photograph of the President's body taken the morning of his death were the property of Mrs. Blanche Chapman, widow of Henry Clay Ford, who was treasurer of the theater. The items never had appeared on the auction block before. An important Lincoln letter from the collection of Henry L. Raymond, editor of the New York Times, the President's friend and adviser, was sold for $7500, the highest price of the evening, to G. A. Baker & Co., book dealers. P. Bassett bought the manuscript of Washington's farewell orders to the American armies delivered at Newburg, N.Y., 1783. The price was $3000. Dr. A. S. W. Rossbach was the highest buyer at the auction. He paid $4100 for a rough draft manuscript of parts of Washington Irving's "Knickerbocker History of New York." Among other offerings, he bought for $3300 a letter of Edgar Allan Poe, which gives Poe's reasons for leaving Graham's Magazine.

PART TWO:

NO COMPETITION WITH BRITISH, SAYS R. C. A. MANAGER

That Plea for Radio-Cable Merger Unfounded, W.
A. Winterbottom Tells Senators.

NOT CREATED AT REQUEST OF U. S.

Manton Davis, Counsel, Says Misleading Advertising to That Effect Has Been Withdrawn.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Senators opponents of the proposed radio-cable merger advocated by the Radio Corporation of America, were elated today over what they described as "complete abandonment" of the main claims hitherto advanced by officers of that corporation before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce. As the hearings were recessed until after the holidays, the possibility of legislation permitting such a consolidation of wire and wireless systems seemed more remote than ever.

As will be recalled, the principal argument advanced by Owen D.
Young and other officers of the Radio Corporation for the merger was the disadvantage of being compelled to compete with the British wire-and-wireless monopoly.
Yesterday a searching cross-examination of William A. Winter-bottom, traffic manager of the R. C. A. communication system, elicited an admission that actually no such competition existed anywhere in the world.

Knows No British Competitor.
When asked to name an instance where R. C. A. circuits were in competition with British cables or British circuits, Winterbottom mentioned competition between the Pacific circuit of the R. C. A. and the T. & T. cable. In some astonishment, William Green, committee counsel, asked Winterbot-tom if he considered the T. & T. a British corporation, since it is the T. & T. that the R. C. A.
proposes to sell its radio circuits as a means of establishing effective competition with the British monopoly. Winterbottom replied that the British had an interest, but that the company was American-controlled.

"If not, it would be a very serious matter to sell the radio communications facilities to it," Green remarked.
"If it is American-controlled,
there is doubt about that," Winter-bottom rejoined.

Green then brought out the fact that under existing contracts when messages are between Great Britain and the United States are handled by radio, the British monopoly gets half the fee, while on messages sent by cable, it gets only a small part of the fee. He asked Win-terbottom if the British monopoly under those circumstances was likely to divert messages to the cables that could be sent by radio.
"No, I think the tendency would be rather to favor the radio, to the detrimment of the American cable," was the reply.

Roosting Contracts.
Other witnesses, however, had referred to the possibility that the British monopoly might route messages for the United States over its own cables by way of Montreal.
Green asked Winterbottom if it were not a fact that the contract between the R. C. A. and the British monopoly required all such messages to be sent over the London-New York radio circuit.

JAPANESE NAVAL MISSION CONFERS WITH U. S. GROUP

The naval problems helps to maintain.
"Despite a previous announcement by the department that David A. Reed (Rep., Pennsylvania), an American delegate to the conference would be present, the senator did not participate in the conversations."

Technical subjects were avoided during the conversations which dealt almost wholly with general questions, chief among which is the Japanese insistence upon a 10-10-7 ratio in auxiliary craft with 10,000 ton cruisers and submarines predominating as the types necessary for the defense of the island kingdom.

The head of the American delegation discussed with equal frankness the defense needs of the United States in which also the 10,000-ton cruiser has a dominant role. There also was a broad treatment of the political aspects of the conference to the consequences that might flow from a failure of the great sea powers to reach an agreement.

Japanese at Mount Vernon.
Through fog and rain Japan's delegates moved today to Mount Vernon and Arlington to pay homage at the tombs of George Washington and the Unknown Soldier.

Ambassador Debuti accompanied the delegates. Nelson Johnson, Assistant Secretary of State, who was named Minister to China,
was with the party as the official representative of the American Government.

The visitors drove directly to the tomb of Washington, where Wis-katsuki placed a wreath. Then each of the Japanese stood silently for a moment and then bowed deeply.

The party was escorted through the principal rooms of the Washington mansion, including the one in which Washington died. They examined with manifest interest many of the relics within the house.

At Arlington the delegation was greeted by Brigadier-General Herbert O. Williams, commanding the Washington area, who escorted them through the amphitheater and to the white marble slab marking the resting place of the Unknown Soldier. A wreath was placed upon the tomb and each member of the delegation paid tribute in his turn.

Upon the return to Washington,
the delegation members were guests at a luncheon given by Ambassador Debuti for the Japanese newspaper correspondents. Later they attended a reception by Mrs.
Stimson, wife of the Secretary of State, at the Stimson home, "Wood-ley."

Dinner at White House.
The social aspect of their visit to the American capital reaches its climax tonight in a state dinner to be given in their honor at the White House by the President and Mrs. Hoover. Members of the Cabinet, the American delegates to London, Senators and Representatives and other officials will be guests.

Italy to Join Britain and U. S. in Stand Against Submarines.

Copyright, 1929, by the Press and Publications Co., Inc. The New York World and Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Dec. 18.—Italy will join the United States and Great Britain in their stand against submarines, the Rome correspondent of the semi-official Tempe says. That country will officially inform France of her position, an action expected to make certain the failure of France and Italy to come to an agreement on naval matters before the opening of the naval parley at London.

In the careful language Rome correspondents use to report Premier Mussolini's decision, Le Tempe's correspondent says:
"The Italian Government has studied submarines under their economic, technical and political aspects and has decided to accept the British thesis for their abolition."

An other interested nations have already made clear the attitude they will adopt at London. The French Government is urged by editorial writers here to do likewise without delay. Pertinax (Andres Gerand), writing in Echo de Paris, of which he is foreign editor, says that unless Foreign Minister Briand makes the French position clear in advance he runs risks. Several Paris newspapers reiterate that Franco-Italian parity is impossible, as 116,000 building and 42,000 more authorized, against which Italy has 270,000 tons under construction or authorized.

To cut French naval forces to Italy's size, it is argued, would oblige France to scrap one-third of her fleet and France would be the only nation to do so.

The make-up of the French delegation to the London parley will be formally announced here soon.
It will be headed by Premier Tar-dieu, supported by Foreign Minister Aristide Briand, Minister of Marine Georges Leygues, and a large staff of naval experts.

CHAMPION CALF GIVEN TO CITY

King Fish, the grand champion

sored by the St. Louis Livestock

Mayor Miller accepted the animal on behalf of the city when it was taken to the Twelfth street entrance to the City Hall this morning.

The calf, raised by a 12-year-old boy of Farmingdale, Ill., was sold to the packing company for $1750.

Negro Indicted for Killing.
The grand jury yesterday voted an indictment for manslaughter against Esther Francis, 20 years old, a Negro, for the stabbing, Dec. 1, of Mrs. Grace Stewart Sealey, 43, of Washington boulevard. Mrs. Sealey was found lying in front of 8994 Locust street and died on the way to the city hospital. Several days later the Negro woman made a statement to police that she had slashed Mrs. Sealey with a knife to protect herself after the white woman, whom she did not know, seized her and began shaking her.

CHARGES HOPKINS, NOMINATED JUDGE, KEPT KANSAS FEES

Tydings Says in Senate He Will Prove Hoover Appointee Broke Oath as Attorney-General.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Opposing the nomination of Richard J. Hopkins to be a Federal Judge in Kansas, Senator Tydings (Dem., Maryland), told the Senate today he would prove the appointee violated his oath of office while Attorney-General of Kansas.

Hopkins, the Maryland Senator said, failed to turn over to the State Treasurer's office fees he had received as required by Kansas law. "He collected $144 more in two counties of the State than the total of $11,132.61 he turned over to the State Treasurer for the whole State," Tydings said.

Senator Capper (Rep.), Kansas, who supported the nomination in the opening debate yesterday, replied that every statement made by the Maryland Senator was "refuted" by the records kept by the offices of the Attorney-General and Treasurer of Kansas.

"The point I make is that here is the law enforcement officer of the State who does not live up to the law," Tydings continued. "A man who aspires to high office ought to keep his books in such shape that the finger of suspicion cannot be pointed at him."

Senator Tydings drew several inquiries about a case he cited in which the Kansas Supreme Court, of which Hopkins is a member, dismissed a charge against an informant in a liquor case whom Tydings said was "equally or more guilty" than the party informed upon.

Senator Capper pointed out that there were seven members of the Kansas Supreme Court and that the opinion in the Finch case, cited by Tydings, was unanimous.

Tydings said that while Hopkins was serving as Attorney-General for Kansas he permitted an assistant in his office to be on the payroll of the Anti-Saloon League for $100 a month.

The fees to which Tydings referred were funds collected in Leavenworth and Wyandotte counties in liquor and criminal cases before the State courts and in some instances were fines for law violations.

Tydings put into the record a copy of a report made on Jan. 2, 1920, by J. N. Atkinson, then State Accountant, which said a record of the collections had been requested of Hopkins while he was Attorney-General, but that "we were informed that none had been kept, or had the Attorney-General kept and turned over such a record to the present incumbent."

Taking up statements that Hopkins had worked for the Anti-Saloon League while he was on the Kansas Supreme Court bench Tydings said "No Judge should have any strings tied around him."

"He has shown a disregard for fine ethics," Tydings asserted, "which alone ought to bar him from office."

He added that if the work had been done for an organization which was working against the prohibition amendment that opposition would immediately have been evoked.

Capper read to the Senate in reply to Tydings a report just received from the Council of Wyandotte County, stating that a review of the court records showed that $4000 charged on the books as fee collections had not actually been collected during the administration of Hopkins as Attorney-General.

Tydings said he did not think the judicial nominees had been dishonest but rather that he had been "careless."

Watson's Appointment Approved. The Senate, by a vote of 53 to 21, yesterday afternoon confirmed the appointment of Albert L. Watson as United States Judge for the middle district of Pennsylvania. The vote came at the end of a day of bitter debate, in which Watson was repeatedly attacked as the hand-picked candidate of the Pennsylvania Railroad and as a political henchman of the Mellon-Grundy "Pennsylvania gang."

Among those voting for his confirmation was Senator Joseph R. Grundy, at whose lobby headquarters in the Mayflower Hotel the selection of Watson was declared to have been decided on.

Of the Missouri delegation, Senator Patterson (Rep.) voted for confirmation, and Senator Hawes was recorded as absent.

HEARING IN ELK HILLS

OIL LEASE SUIT CONCLUDED

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 18.—With the conclusion of defense testimony yesterday, Federal Judge Frank H. Norcross of Nevada adjourned hearings in the Government's suit to cancel the Pan-American Petroleum Co.'s leases on naval oil reserve lands at Elk Hills, Cal., which are alleged to have been obtained by fraud.

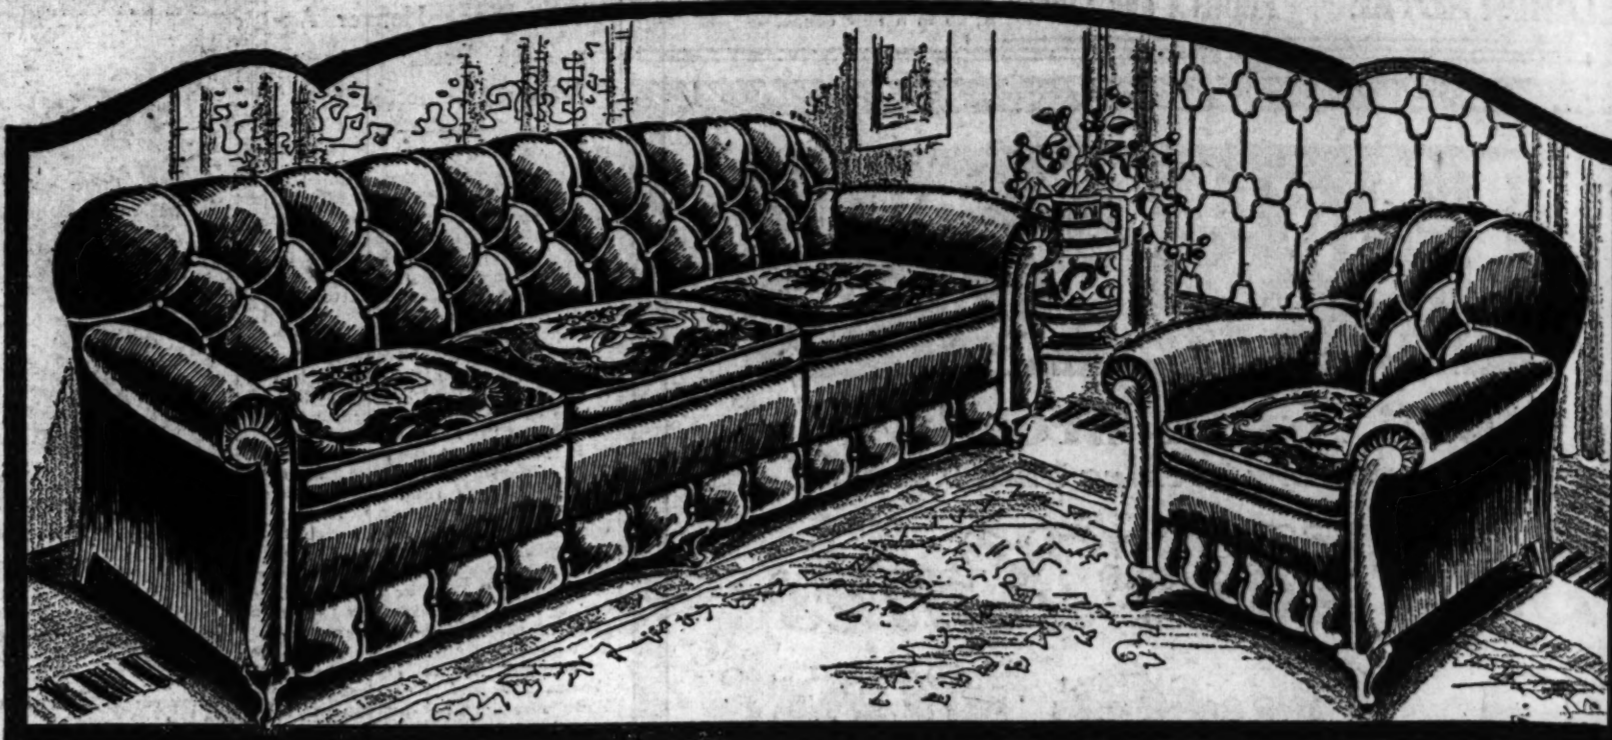

The close of the hearing which has been in progress for nearly a month came after testimony from Prof. Frank M. Anderson, a geologist who said the reserves were being drained and an emergency existed when Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, awarded the leases to the company.

The case will be taken under advisement by Judge Norcross at his home court in Reno, Nev. Anderson, whose testimony caused many objections from Atlee Pomerene, chief Government counsel, said that before the placing of the leases with the company, then headed by Fall's lifetime friend, Edward L. Doherty, the Standard Oil Co. had started 10 wells north of the reserve. These wells, the witness said, were producing an aggregate of 30,000 barrels daily. Ten months later, Anderson said, 10 other wells were drilled in the strip leases which separated the Standard's operations and the reserve, and the combined production of these 10 wells was only 2000 barrels daily.

As Christmas Approaches—

WITHIN two weeks many husbands and fathers will celebrate another Christmas with their families. In many respects it will be similar to that of a year ago—five years ago.

But because Christmas comes and goes each year with little change in the family circle, it is easy to think it will do so indefinitely. Every man who enjoys the society of his family this Christmas must recognize that perhaps some day the occasion will be observed without him.

The least that one can do is to so arrange his estate and his insurance that, as far as possible, the Christmas days that come may find his loved ones comfortable.

Why not arrange your will, and create trust funds with the Mississippi Valley Merchants State Trust Company now; so that, come what may, your dependents will be protected?

What could be more fitting, as another Christmas approaches, than to provide for the happiness of your family during holiday seasons of the future?

ROZSIKA DOLLY CASE DROPPED
Jewelry Must Resort to Civil Action to Recover Necklaces.
By The Associated Press.
PARIS, Dec. 18.—A charge that Rozsika Dolly, dancer, had obtained $280,000 in pearls under false pretenses from Parisian jewelers, was dismissed yesterday.

Two necklaces which she refused to give up have been sequestered. It is understood the jewellers will commence a civil process to recover them. Miss Dolly contended the necklaces were given her by her husband, Mortimer Davis Jr., son of the Canadian tobacco magnate. They have been reported estranged and about to be divorced.

Seeks Permit for Freight Carrier.
JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 18.—Application has been filed by the Southwestern Transportation Co. of St. Louis, with the State Public Service Commission, for permission to operate a freight carrier route from Dexter, Mo., to the Missouri-Arkansas line near St. Francis, Ark.

FAILS TO DEFEND SUIT FOR $10,000 BUT WINS ANYWAY

Manuel Redler Defaults in Action Over Fatal Auto Accident, Judge Has Attorney Resist Claim.

Although Manuel Redler, 10322 Vernon avenue, made withdrawal of any defense to a $10,000 damage suit and apparently was willing for a verdict to go by default against him, Circuit Judge Falkenhainer today sustained a demurrer in Redler's favor, holding that the evidence did not show he was responsible for an automobile accident on which the suit was based. When the case was taken from the jury, Jacob Mallman, attorney for the estate of Nathan Nemerovsky, 4200 W. St. Louis avenue, plaintiff in the action, asked for a nonsuit with leave to reopen the claim.

An automobile owned by Nemerovsky was driven over a 60-foot embankment on the Olive Street road near the Missouri River Aug. 11, 1926, Nemerovsky being killed and three other occupants, including Redler, injured. A conflict of testimony resulted as to whether the owner or Redler was driving.

Wife Testifies Against Him.
At the coroner's inquest Redler said Nemerovsky was at the wheel, but in the damage suit he said he did not remember who was driving. His wife, who was among the injured, testified that he was driving. Some time after the accident she got a verdict of $1600 against Redler on account of her injuries, charging him with careless driving, and after obtaining the verdict she married him.

Judge Falkenhainer ruled that from evidence before the coroner and testimony of a physician in the damage action who said that wounds on Nemerovsky's body indicated he received them in being thrown over the driver's wheel, he was satisfied there was no case against Redler.

The suit was unusual in that after Redler let it go by default former Judge Frey, who was then on the bench, appointed William Woodward as "friend of the court" to investigate. It was Woodward who called Redler and other witnesses in the damage suit, and placed them on the stand.

Redler's attorney, A. H. Shauvet, did not appear. Judge Falkenhainer issued an attachment for him and he was brought in by the sheriff. The attorney explained that he had been instructed to make no defense, but the court pointed out he had not formally withdrawn as counsel. The attorney then consulted with Redler and withdrew, after which Woodward handled the defense as the court's agent.

Nemerovsky carried automobile insurance, which made the insurance company liable in event he was killed or injured when some one else was driving his car, or when no responsibility for an accident rested on him if he was driving when it occurred. Protection was afforded also to any other occupant of the car.

The insurance company denied liability contending that Nemerovsky himself was driving, and related the suit on the premise that on the driver of the machine. In the event that it could be established, however, that Redler was at the wheel, Nemerovsky's estate and Mrs. Redler would have indisputable grounds to collect from the insurance company, it was stated.

URGES PAROLE SYSTEM FOR WORKHOUSE PRISONERS

Head of Penal Institution Proposes Release Under State Supervision.
A parole system under which inmates of the City Workhouse could be rewarded for good behavior by release under strict supervision was recommended by Col. Elisha C. Friesse, warden of the City Workhouse, in a talk before the City-fourth Ward Republican club at Kingshighway and Main avenues last night.

Friesse declared the workhouse laws permit no deduction of time for good behavior, although less than 50 per cent of the most first offenders. One-third of inmates in most of the penal institutions of the United States, he declared, could become productive citizens under strict probation.

Including premiums and sale proceeds was $50,700, an unequalled record. Girls goes the lion's share of the honor. Mr. Beattie, of Swift & Co., of the East Side Packing Co., contributed the enterprise by their painstaking. Mr. Heim, Manager of the American, sold the sale off with a rush that insured using the Grand Champion at $2.00 per lb. of the Stater Hotel continued the good the Reserve Champion Hereford at 60 and Mr. Charles Pershall, of the Tri-City City, Ill., followed by securing the horns at 35 cents per pound. AIRWAYS NEEDED AID TO BUSINESS, SAYS MAJ. YOUNG Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics Predicts Growth of Use of Plane.

"It is inevitable that aeronautics will play a highly important role in the commerce of tomorrow because of the general demand for speedy transportation," declared Maj. Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics, in an address before the Chamber of Commerce at the Missouri Athletic Association today.

The meeting was held to discuss plans for the International Aircraft Exposition, to be held at The Arena in February.

Despite the decline in security values and the general curtailment of aircraft production, the aviation industry will continue to progress in a sound economic manner," Maj. Young said.

The day in and day out demonstration of aviation's safety, reliability and utility is convincing a growing percentage of the population that aviation is here to stay.

Moreover, during the next 12 months the Department of Commerce will continue to expand the airways system, additional mail contracts no doubt will be awarded, and a still greater use will be made of the air service in transporting passengers and merchandise, as well as mail.

P. E. Rentschler, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, and Charles L. Lawrence, vice president of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation, were scheduled to attend the meeting, wired that they were detained in the east.

BOY KILLS SISTER, BROTHER
KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 18.—In a rage because three of his younger brothers and sisters were leaving him, Lawrence Wilbur, 15 years old, picked up his father's rifle and with one shot killed his sister Lulu, 6, and his brother Daniel, 2. The third child, Daley, 5, ran upstairs and hid under a bed.

The tragedy occurred Monday afternoon in Slight Hollow, a tiny hamlet nestling in the Catskills. There are five other children, but Lawrence and the three youngest were home alone. The father was away at work, and the mother in a hospital in Kingston. After the shooting Lawrence went to the home of a relative and reported that two of the children were dead.

FIRE AT ILLINOIS ASYLUM
CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—Fire of undetermined origin broke out in one of the ward buildings at the Dunning State Hospital for the insane last night.

Seventy-five patients, all men, were saved by the promptness of guards, who took them to another building before the fire had gained headway. The fire started on the second floor.

MacDonald's Greetings to U. S. LONDON, Dec. 18.—Premier MacDonald sent holiday greetings to the people of the United States today. "I send to my American friends my warm greetings," he said. "For a happy Christmas and for the new year. I hope that 1930 will see the birth of a new era of effective peace and good will."

1930, the George Herbert Jones Chemistry Laboratory was presented by the donor, a Chicago capitalist, with some of the leading chemists in the world in attendance, including Dr. G. M. Lewis of the University of California, and Dr. Edward R. Weidman, director of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research.

Of special interest to President Robert Maynard Hutchins was the dedication of the Social Sciences Building, also attended by national figures in this field. It was Hutchins' reorganization of the Yale Law School, while dean, into the Institute of Human Relations—in conjunction with Dean Milton C. Winter of Yale—that brought the youthful Chicago president his first recognition in national scholastic circles.

EAGLE PITCHER MERGER DETAILS ANNOUNCED

New Firm to Be Formed for Mining Operations of Combine With Consolidated.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 18.—A new corporation, to conduct the mining operations of the Eagle Pitcher Lead Co. and the Consolidated Lead and Zinc Co., in Missouri and Oklahoma, will be formed, according to an announcement made here by officers of the affiliated concerns named.

The new concern will be known as the Eagle Pitcher Mining Co., and will be capitalized at $4,000,000 to $7,000,000. After it takes over the mining and smelting operations of the Eagle Pitcher and Consolidated companies, the manufacturing and selling and of the business will be handled by the parent company, the Eagle Pitcher Lead Co. The company's chief mining and smelting properties are at Joplin, Mo., Galena, Kan., and Hearsholt, Ok. It has manufacturing plants in Cincinnati, East St. Louis and elsewhere. The Consolidated has headquarters in St. Louis.

This action will complete the merger of Eagle Pitcher Lead Co. and the Consolidated Lead & Zinc Co., which now have mostly the same officers and directors. The common stock issue of Eagle Pitcher is $20,000,000, divided into 1,000,000 shares. The Consolidated is $2,300,000. An exchange of stock in proportion to the ore reserves of the two companies, as determined by a recent engineers' survey, is planned.

Stockholders of Eagle Pitcher Lead Co. will be notified of the action of the company's directors, in a letter to be drafted by Frederick Hertenstein, chairman of the Executive Committee. Notice also will be given of plans for the formation of another subsidiary company, to use hydro-electric power in connection with by-products of the lead and zinc mines. The hydro-electric plant will be on the Ohio river near Louisville, where power will be available from the new plant at the falls of the Ohio.

Eagle Pitcher and its affiliated companies produce about 70 per cent of the zinc supply of the United States, and nearly one-third of the world's supply of that metal. Absorption of other concerns, now being negotiated, is expected to enlarge the company's business.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER JR.'S SECOND SON ENGAGED

Nelson Aldrich to Wed Miss Mary Todhunter Clark of Philadelphia.

By Licensed Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—The engagement of Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr., to Miss Mary Todhunter Clark of Cynwyd, fashionable suburb of Philadelphia, was announced yesterday. Miss Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hamilton Clark.

While no date has been set for the wedding it is thought it will take place soon after young Rockefeller's graduation from Dartmouth College next June. Miss Clark will be 33 years old next summer and her fiancé is 32. The pair it was learned, will live in New York after a honeymoon abroad. Rockefeller then intends to work in his father's office.

Miss Clark, a graduate of Foxcroft School in Virginia, attended the Sorbonne in Paris, in 1924. She has been active in the Junior League of Philadelphia and is a tennis and riding enthusiast.

Miss Clark's mother is the daughter of the late George B. Roberts, former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and her father, a member of a law firm in Philadelphia, is the son of the late E. W. Clark, head of the Philadelphia banking firm of that name.

Rockefeller, who is specializing in economics at Dartmouth and has played football on the varsity since last year, is especially interested in photography. He is editor-in-chief of the Dartmouth, a photographic review of college life appearing three times a year.

UNABLE TO REPAIR GARKER
Workmen Four Electricians Claimed Large Cables in Ocean Bed.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 18.—No repairs have been made to the extensive cable damage caused by the upheaval of the ocean in the earthquake of Nov. 18, according to word brought back from the area of operations by the Commercial Cable Co.'s ship, the John Mackay, which arrived in port last night. The vessel, after running here, will return to the scene. Deposits of hard clay are trapping iron in place of usual ooze of the ocean bed, leading to the theory that a tremendous upheaval and cracking, similar to an earthquake on land, have buried miles of cable so deep that it cannot be reached.

So infinitely SMARTER than Bad-Weather Footwear has ever been before

SHUGLOV
MILLER

Shuglov by Miller offer you a choice of two fabrics: dainty moiré rubber lightly but warmly lined, and smartly tailored cloth. Two styles: button-over and concealed Talon Hookless Fastener with distinctive buckle and strap. Easily cleaned.

SHUGLOVS are an entirely new conception of bad-weather footwear. Not a sign remains of old-time bulk and ugliness.

Shuglovs are truly smart! They are carefully designed to retain the slender, graceful line from toe to ankle. They are as soft and flexible as an imported glove... as carefully tailored as an English riding habit.

Yet, with all this careful attention to style, Shuglovs give complete protection to delicate shoes and stockings. And they are pleasantly warm, though they look so light and gay.

Smart shops everywhere have Shuglovs, in colors to match every ensemble. The original Miller creation bears the name "Shuglov by Miller" on the sole. Look for it—accept no other. The Miller Rubber Co., 41 N. V. Akron, Ohio.

Remolding the legs to show beautiful lines, as shown in the picture to the left, is only one of a host of health and beauty benefits you get from the Sunbeam Health Cabinet.
At the same time you can get the ultra-violet rays that give lovely complexion and buoyant vitality.

Children Bloom With New Health when they get daily ultra-violet rays from the Sunbeam *CERTIFIED Ultra-Violet. Eminent scientists agree that their blood gains calcium, phosphorus, vitamin D—growth is spurred, bones and muscles are sturdier, healthier. Especially during sunless weeks in winter, you owe your children this health-building vital force, as much as you owe them food shelter, and clothes.

This Sunbeam Only $37.50

Every Sunbeam *CERTIFIED Ultra-Violet uses two sunshine carbon arcs—next to the sun itself for producing beneficial ultra-violet (U. S. Bureau of Standards tests). Spectrochromel Reflector, found only in Sunbeams, increases efficiency approximately 100%, insuring quick treatment.

Burns six minutes, shuts off automatically; can be instantly reset for additional treatment.

Lustrous bronze and gold finish; adds beauty to the most attractive room.

CERTIFIED by Famous Scientist

Highest scientific authorities have determined that only those ultra-violet rays having wave lengths between 2900 and 3150 are unquestionably safe and beneficial to health. To receive real benefit, you must get abundant rays in this biological, or beneficial zone.

But ultra-violet rays are invisible.
Nothing but scientific tests can reveal their wave lengths. So we had Dr.
Harvey B. Lemon, professor of physics, University of Chicago, test the Sunbeam and others.

His certificate, attached to each

Sunbeam *CERTIFIED Ultra-Violet, tells the story. He found that the Sunbeam not only gives abundant ultraviolet rays throughout the beneficial zone, and no harmful wave lengths—it gives beneficial rays even more abundantly than clear sunlight, tested in Chicago, June 1, 1927.

But the Sunbeam *CERTIFIED Ultra-Violet gives you the certificate of a famous expert, that you get abundant beneficial ultra-violet, no other kind. Entrust your health to the Sun-

NEW CONTRACT
TO COACH TEAM

Heartily "Hunk" Anderson, coach of the St. Louis University football eleven, will be offered a new contract, covering the season of 1930, it was announced following a meeting of the St. Louis Athletic Board held last night. The announcement was made by Father J. J. O'Regan, S. J., director of athletics.

The new contract will be tendered Anderson today and it is probable he will not delay in accepting or refusing, inasmuch as he has been here since Dec. 1, when his old contract expired.

The board also approved the St. Louis U.-Missouri football game of Oct. 11, next, which will be played at the Billiken's new stadium. The first section of the stands, seating about 13,000 persons, is expected to be ready by next fall. The new stadium will be on Oakland avenue just west of Kingshighway.

ST. LOUIS HOCKEY TEAM GAINS
ITS SECOND STRAIGHT TRIUMPH
OVER KANSAS CITY SIX, 4 TO 3

By W. J. McGoogan

Paddy Byrne, who guards the net for the Kansas City hockey team, is a fine goaltender. He is one of the best in the American Association. Only 13 times in 11 games has Paddy been unable to stop the rushes of his opponents. But the St. Louis team is "poison" for Paddy. Seven times have the Flyers passed him. Thus more than half of the goals charged against him are traceable to Coach Jamieson's men.

This ability to get past Byrne, is an easy job, is the chief reason why the Flyers today are only one point behind the leaders of the league and why they have just won two games in a row from the strong Pla-Mors, the first time this season they have been able to accomplish this feat.

Byrne does not like to see his face slam the puck past him. But he has been forced to accept this humiliation seven times in the last two games with the Flyers. Three times they outwitted him in the final of a two-game series at Kansas City Sunday night and last night in the opener of a brace of games at the Winter Garden they got past him four times to gain a 4 to 1 victory.

Goyer in the Linelight. Paddy accepted the first goal last night philosophically. "The Flyers were lucky," he said when he saw the puck past him in the first period for the opening score, but he was sure they wouldn't score again. However, the same Goyer did score again, twice in the next period. On the last Goyer was assisted by Hill and on the second by Cameron.

But Byrne merely stood by with a sardonic grin on his face wondering how these St. Louis players could be so lucky as to drive the puck past the great Paddy. Byrne three times in the same game. But in the third period when Denny Breen took the puck down the ice, through the entire Kansas City team and around the defense, behind the net and brought it out to drive the fourth Flyer tally into the Pla-Mor net.

Byrne lay on his haunches, defeated, crumpled before the power of the St. Louis attack. Gone was the grin only a rather dejected, shamed face. Paddy was left.

But if their goaltender was downhearted the rest of the Pla-Mor team was not. At the time the fourth St. Louis tally was slamed home, the Kansas City team was three goals behind, the score being at that time 4 to 1 and only about 15 minutes of the contest remaining. Their one goal had been scored in the first period when McLeod, the Pla-Mor defense man, had gone right through the St. Louis team and sent Kearney with a powerful shot.

Even with the three goal deficit staring them in the face and with the short time remaining the Pla-Mors went to work. They sent all available men down the ice in an effort to break up the stubborn St. Louis defense, tighter than the St. Louis fans had witnessed before this season. But without avail. Not an inch would the Flyers yield.

However, with only five minutes remaining the Pla-Mors got a break. Harry Cameron was chased from the ice for a penalty and the Flyers' strength was restored. Immediately thereafter Jamieson was run off the ice as was a Kansas City man when they got into a scuffle. But then Cameron made a big mistake. He tried to send a St. Louis man onto the ice to take Jamieson's place and Hall, defense of Kansas City, called the referee's attention to the fact that St. Louis had one too many men on the ice.

Denny Breen also sensed what was the matter and Denny took a nose dive over the boards, trying to hide in a box seat. But he was discovered and the referee chased not only one Flyer from the ice, but two, one extra for saving too many on the ice. That gave the Pla-Mors a line opportunity and they drove the puck into the St. Louis net twice in rapid succession. Then one of the Flyers' penalties was up and Cameron got back on the ice to stave off the Kansas City attack in the final 30 seconds of play to give St. Louis victory.

2000 Attend Contest. Despite the counter attractions of the indoor football at the Arena and the wrestling at the Coliseum the hockey crowd held up to about its usual 2000 proportions.

Nobby Clark, defense man, who was injured sometime ago, got back into the Flyers' lineup for a few minutes.

Fred Kearney, goaltender, saved his spurs if he had never done before. Time after time the young net minder thrust himself into the way of threatening Kansas City attacks and turned them back. He made saves which seemed impossible. And not one of the Kansas City scores was chargeable directly to him.

Hallerson, the recruit who has been one of the Kansas City stars so far this season, made a fine impression on the St. Louis fans. He hurt his leg and was forced to retire from the game for a time. He was given an ovation when he left the ice.

Tonight the final game of the series is to be played. It will be

Roosevelt Wins
Over Principia
Quintet, 37-16

By Harold Tuthill

Roosevelt went on a scoring spree yesterday afternoon to defeat Principia Junior College, 37 to 16, for the Rough Riders' first victory in three games. The contest was played on the Roosevelt court.

The winners started slowly and led 4 to 0 on field goals by Shirley Griffin and Charles Yeager, at the end of the first quarter. At the end of the half the Rough Riders began dropping shots from all angles and led 19 to 2. Principia's only points in the first two periods were made by Lacke on a goal from scrimmage.

The Cadets came back at the beginning of the second half and two field goals and a free throw narrowed the margin to 19 points. Roosevelt peppered the basket until the score read 28 to 11 at the end of the third quarter.

The Rough Riders scored four field goals and a free throw to Principia's five points in the final period, even though the Roosevelt second team was in the game.

Ward Parker led the Rough Riders' attack with four goals from scrimmage and one from the foul line for nine points. Lacke scored four times from the floor to gather the team's scoring honors. With the exception of Henry Graul, each of the Roosevelt players accounted for at least two points.

In earning his letter, Cadet Parker was a mainstay of the team throughout the year.

LONDOS THROWS
GEORGE HAGEN IN COLISEUM MATCH

By Damon Kirby

The feeling of "Peace on earth, good will toward men" is supposed to be abroad in the land at this particular season, but there was none of it within the ring at the Coliseum last night, where wrestlers slapped and slammed, and twisted arms and legs, and otherwise conducted themselves as wrestlers do today, for the benefit of a surprisingly large crowd of about 4000.

The match between George Hagen of New York, billed as an extreme champion, and our own Jimmy Londos was scheduled as the feature, but truth to tell, there was not much difference between the various events. All had their stretches of dullness and, likewise, all had their bright moments.

Hagen, who appeared in a St. Louis ring for the first time last night, proved to be a powerfully set up fellow with well developed muscles.

A description of one of Londos' matches is a description of all of them. It was the old story of Jimmy staying on the defensive, covering before his opponent, running from corner to corner, pulling outside the ropes, and otherwise working the crowd up until it thought Hagen had a chance to win.

Then, with the crowd backing Hagen and booing Londos for his run sheep run plan of battle, Londos went to work and accomplished what he should have done three-quarters of an hour before. He applied three reverse bulldozers which Hagen stumbled into, and then a couple of flying mares. It was the end of an imperfect day for Hagen. The time was 1 hour 18 minutes.

Hagen was the hero of the crowd, despite the defeat, as he stepped from the ring, while Londos, the villain, was jeered and booed.

Kerlenko-Dusek in Draw. Matvey Kerlenko, a Russian, and Rudy Dusek, from Memphis, Little Rock, Nebraska, and points west, went through 45 minutes of something in the ring, without either gaining a fall. The match's high light, Kerlenko, down on his hands and knees, in the center of the ring, wheeling with the south end of his anatomy toward Dusek as the latter paced around the ring in an effort to find an opening. Dusek needed was a game paddle.

Jack Sampson of Chicago was without much hair on his head, and he certainly was short of his power, if he ever had any. Roy Steele tossed him with a flying mare held in 12m.15s.

Billy Bartush of Pittsburg and Vito Risaldi of St. Louis went 30 minutes to a draw in the opener.

Kerlenko is nothing if not a showman. As in a previous appearance, he stepped into the ring clothed in an imitation leopard skin, which, of course, he stepped out of before his match started. Then, before the main event, he hopped into the ring attired in native Russian dress, to challenge the winner.

Impatient spectators called down the wrath of the high heavens on Referee Harry Sharpe when he stopped the Londos-Hagen match to argue with Londos on an interpretation of the wrestling rules. The season occurred not long after a prolonged conference before the match started, in which Sharpe, Londos, Hagen, and the wrestler's hands and feet were involved. The program ended just 10 minutes before midnight.

The question before the house is: If Londos doesn't know the rules now, when will he?

Ringside spectators were all but flooded out by the rain that dripped through the skylights high above the ring. Between trying to dodge raindrops and wrestlers, those in the first row spent a fairly active evening.

U. S. HOCKEY LEAGUE
RAISES PLAYER LIMIT
FROM 13 TO 15 MEN
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—The Board of Governors of the National Hockey League yesterday made another move to speed up hockey by raising the player limit of each club from 13 to 15, including goalies.

In raising the limit the board explained it was feared players would grow stale if restricted to play as much as they are under the 13 player limit. So fast is the pace under present rules that many players finish games in complete exhaustion. More substitutes will give them more rest.

Kid Chocolate Has Big Edge on Champion in Featherweight Rating

Cuban Negro Boxer Given 96 Per Cent of Ballots of Experts of the Country in Rankings—Battalino, the Titleholder, Is Second With Mastro Third.

THIS is the third in the series of ten articles ranking the boxers in the various weight divisions, as determined by a poll of 73 fight writers in the leading pugilistic centers of the country. In the balloting, first place on the list of ten in each division counts for 10 points, second place for nine, etc., with 750 points the highest possible total.

By Wilbur Wood.
Of the New York Sun Sport Staff.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—The results of the featherweight class in the fourth annual national boxing consensus are highly unusual in that the first four places go to boxers who did not show in that division last year. They are: Kid Chocolate, Bat Battalino, Earl Mastro and Fidel La Barba.

Another outstanding feature of the featherweight balloting is the displacement of the official champion, Battalino, by Chocolate, at the head of the list. Battalino is the first of the champions to be outpointed in the nation-wide voting by a boxer who officially is merely one of the contenders.

Chocolate far ahead. Chocolate's total of 737 contrasts with Battalino's vote of 521. The percentage figures are 96 and 70, respectively. According to these figures a contest for the title between Battalino and Chocolate is in order. It is understood that such a bout will take place in Madison Square Garden, in February or March.

Earl Mastro, baby-faced Chicago Italian, receives the honors with a vote of 481 points for a percentage of 64. His rise to prominence is remarkable, considering that he was unplaced in any division a year ago.

Fidel La Barba, California collegian, moved out of the basement division to the main floor, where he has prospered in the 155-pound division is shown by his fourth-place ranking. Bud Taylor, Terre Haute veteran, is the fifth member of the first division, with a percentage of 51.6.

Eddie Shea, sturdy Chicago Italian, heads the second bracket, but there is a considerable gap in points and percentage between him and Taylor. The other members of the first ten, from seventh to tenth, in the order named, are Santiago Zorilla, San Blas Indian; Teddy Baldock of London; Joey Sanger, of Milwaukee, and Andre Roubin, of France.

Roubin's reign as champion, which was far from satisfactory, came to an end last fall when he was outpointed by Battalino in Hartford, the home of the new titleholder. Roubin's inefficiency as champion of the division is clearly reflected in the standings.

Negro Boxed at Age of 11. Chocolate was given a total of 57 first places. Thirteen of the critics ranked him second, and the five others picked him for the No. 3 notch. Thus it is seen that nobody failed to place him as one of the best three boys of his weight in the world. This is all the more remarkable when it is taken into consideration that the Cuban is, according to general opinion, only 18 years old, and that he has been boxing in this country less than a year and a half.

The Keed started as a $10-a-round boxer in August, 1928. One year later he received almost $50,000 for his bout with Al Singer in New York. However, the Keed is not exactly a novice, as he boxed in Havana amateur tournaments when he was only 11 years old, when he is said to have weighed but 52 pounds.

Battalino drew 15 first-place votes, 20 seconds, 11 thirds, and a scattering of nominations for the other positions all the way down to tenth. Three first-place ballots were chalked up for Mastro. The other went to him, though he was not listed as a featherweight. Same is to box Tod Morgan for the junior lightweight honors in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

As already pointed out, the first four places are given to boxers

CARNERA STOPS
GERMAN HEAVY
IN SIX ROUNDS

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Prime Carnera, 6-foot 10-inch Italian carpenter, stopped Franz Disner of Germany in the sixth round of their bout in Albert Hall last night. Hopelously outwitted, Disner became merely a human punching bag for the Italian giant. Carnera, hooked, fabled and cuttled until he had the German groggy late in the sixth round and the referee stopped the one-sided affair, awarding the decision to Carnera.

Albert Hall, which was packed with 8000 fans, never had seen a little fighter stand up under such a beating as Disner apparently was taking. He always came up smiling and when the fight was ended he was still ready to continue.

Carnera toyed with his little opponent through the early part of the fight and reached the end without a sign of distress. Disner received as big an ovation as was given to the victor.

The listed world's record for 100 yards, breast stroke, by women is 2 minutes 28 seconds set by Agnes Gough of New York in 1926.

BEARS' REGULARS
TO START GAME AGAINST ILLINI

By Henry L. Freund

The Washington University basketball team departs tonight to meet the University of Illinois at Urbana tomorrow afternoon. The game will be the second battle of the season for both quintets.

The Bears opened their season last Saturday night at Purdue when "Stretch" Murphy and his cohorts trounced the Bears a decisive 22-10. Illinois also lost on Saturday when Bradley Tech of Peoria handed the Big Ten school a 20-22 defeat.

"Red" Sauselle, who entered the Purdue game in its late stage and tossed two field shots into the basket in rapid succession is not expected to start against the Illini. White believes that Don Whitehouse had an off night at Lafayette as the former Detroit High star missed a number of sure shots.

Don Constance will start at the other forward berth. Captain "Moose" Meyer will be at center. Springer and Wientge will start at the guards.

The game against Illinois tomorrow will be played in the afternoon starting at 4:30. Athletic authorities at Illinois have scheduled a number of basketball games in the afternoon as test games in order to discover just how well attended afternoon games will be.

The following men will make the trip: Forwards: Constance, Sauselle, Whitehouse, Houghtlin. Centers: Meyer, Hohn. Guards: Springer, Wientge. Lightenfeld, Johnson.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—The Great Arthur Shires is almost convinced that as a professional fighter he is a good first baseman. He may retire from the ring.

Since he dropped the decision to George Trafton after five rounds Monday night, Shires has been doing a lot of sleeping and no little thinking and he is considering forgetting about fighting and getting in shape for baseball.

Temperature Drop due TONIGHT

Protect your car NOW!

Here's how to protect your car against "freeze-ups" in less than 2 minutes with Denatured Alcohol

WISER MAN NOW... He thought that he was protected, but his substitute anti-freeze had leaked away. Now a frozen owner when he needed the car.

CHART GUIDES YOU. Whenever you see the orange and green Denatured Alcohol sign there's a chart that shows how much your car needs.

ALL THERE IS TO IT! How simple it is! Just pour in Denatured Alcohol, as you would water! The Alco-Tester in the service man's left hand shows you the strength of your solution any time you want to know how much you need. A dollar or two buys all the Denatured Alcohol you'll need all season.

TONIGHT, car owners! That's what the weather man says! Winter's due... with a sharp drop in temperatures!

Maybe you think your car is protected... but just to be sure drive now to the nearest garage or filling station. Tell the man you want Denatured Alcohol.

He'll look at a chart that tells him how much your car requires. Then put in that amount. As an extra check, he tests the solution... and you drive away, knowing your power plant is fully protected... and less than 2 minutes required!

You use it as you need it... a little or more as the climate calls for. You pay only for what you need. You have no needless servicing charges to meet, no inconvenience from lay-ups.

Think how simple it is! Far less bother than changing oil... no more time than filling the gas tank! And you've followed the procedure most automobile engineers recommend... used the only anti-freeze with a backing of 20 years of successful use!

Safe, Sure, Economical!
Denatured Alcohol is fully tried. It protects your car against cold weather... without the danger of damage to the motor. No corrosion of metal parts. No rotted hose. No damaged pumps. No risk of shorted electrical circuits.

Remember... Denatured Alcohol is the universally accepted anti-freeze for motor cars. Use it... and you are following the experience of 20,000,000 motorists who know how safe and sure it is.

The Industrial Alcohol Institute, Inc., Graybar Building, New York City.

More... your cooling system requires no more attention than you normally give it. Your service man will check your solution any time... and tell you as often as you wish to know just how much you are protected.

As for cost, Denatured Alcohol is by far the cheapest anti-freeze on the market. In the severest climates, a full winter's supply will cost you only a fraction as much as certain other anti-freezes.

Remember... Denatured Alcohol is the universally accepted anti-freeze for motor cars. Use it... and you are following the experience of 20,000,000 motorists who know how safe and sure it is.

The Industrial Alcohol Institute, Inc., Graybar Building, New York City.

SIX INDISPUTABLE FACTS

You've heard a lot about anti-freeze. Here are the real facts in the case... the indisputable reasons why more motorists use Denatured Alcohol than all other anti-freezes combined.

- 1 An entire season's supply of Denatured Alcohol usually costs less than half as much as one filling of some preparations.
- 2 Denatured Alcohol is harmless to radiators, engines and electrical systems. It will not corrode metal parts or attack rubber hose and does not cause leaks.
- 3 No special service is required to make your car ready for winter. Just put Denatured Alcohol in your radiator as it is.
- 4 Every car manufacturer approves Denatured Alcohol, and the firm that made your radiator is also emphatic in its endorsement.
- 5 If your protective solution is lost through accident or corrosion, the cost of replacement with Denatured Alcohol is usually one-sixth that of replacement with some preparations.
- 6 You can get Denatured Alcohol anywhere, anytime, wherever you need it, wherever you see.

Pickel Walnut declared a dividend of $1 a share, payable Jan. 1 to stockholders of record Dec. 15. The previous quarter's dividend was $1 1/2.

St. Louis Union Trust Co. has declared an extra Christmas dividend of 10 per cent along with the regular quarterly dividend of 4 per cent, both payable Dec. 17 to stockholders of record Dec. 15. The Christmas dividend paid last year was $1. A bonus of one month's salary will be given employees.

Colorless Session ON CURB EXCHANGE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The curb market was again a drab and colorless affair today, with trading conditions unchanged from yesterday, save that the creeping price movement was reversed, and most of the important shares closed slightly lower.

Price movements in the more popular issues were largely narrow, restricted to a point or two, but some of the high-priced and comparatively inactive issues broke widely. Several more lightly traded issues touched new lows, in selling, representing discouraged buying by persons who have been holding them since the break.

Overseas securities traded at 20. The previous sale was 4 1/2. Maryland Casualty was down more than 1/2 point to a new low at 30. Other shares establishing new low ground for the year or longer were Ruma, Inc., Carman Corp., Ruma, Inc., Industrial Finance, Preferred, Richmond Bros. and Root Refining.

Such shares as Electric Bond and Share, American Superpower, United Light and Power, A. Associated Gas and A. Middle West Utilities lost about 1/2 to 1 point each. Brazilian Tractor, a recent strong spot, dropped 3 points, and Brazil Utility Investment suffered a like loss in profit-taking inspired by the 6 per cent stock dividend.

Pressure against Cities Service increased, and it closed at 2 1/2. A new low for the movement, and off 1/2. Fox Theaters dropped to 1 1/2, only 1/2 above its recent low, but rallied to close at 7, off 1/2.

Pressure was renewed on Indianapolis, that the Fox Film trustees were opposed by the Class A stockholders' committee in plans.

A few of the industrial issues were in fair demand, such shares as Ray, Knox, Celanese, General Fireproof, U. S. Finishing, New Haven, and A. O. Smith selling up a point or two. Oils were the only closed steady, with Standard Oil of Kansas and Humble up about a point. Third National Investors seemed about a point, but investment trusts were largely sluggish.

R. H. Swape on R-K-O Board.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Herbert Swape, former executive of the New York World, has been elected a director of the Radio-Kellogg-Orpheum Corp.

INVESTMENT RAILS UP IN BOND TRADE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Investment rails and high-grade utilities moved upward on the bond market today. There also was a slight better tone to the industrial group, so that the domestic list had a firm appearance after its recent irregularity. Buying, however, continued light and the firmness of money found reflection in the easing United States Government group.

American Telephone convertible 4 1/2's rose more than two points on the late rally in the shares, but most of the other stock feature debentures sold off throughout the quiet session.

The foreign list was dull. There were further declines in Argentine obligations, which were sold in moderate volume again today on the Government's action in postponing the conversion privilege at the gold exchange in Buenos Aires.

Industrial and Financial Briefs

Stanley M. Lazarus, counsel for the Fox Film Corporation, claims "stockholders' committee" says that definite action will be taken on behalf of that group to prevent the transfer of the assets of the corporation to the holding company, which it has been rumored that the trustees of the "Fox" stock are supposed to form.

Twenty-one steamers will dock at West coast ports with cargoes of raw silk for delivery in January, according to a schedule prepared by the Silk Association of America.

According to the weekly estimate of the National Coal Association, about 11,900,000 tons of bituminous coal were mined in the United States during the week ending Dec. 14. This is the largest amount produced in any week since last February.

New building and engineering contracts awarded in the 37 states during the week ending Dec. 13, totaled $67,074,700. F. W. Dodge Corp. reports. There were no exceptionally large projects reported that week, which accounts to some extent for the decrease of 38 per cent from the preceding week's total of $108,609,500. Last week's total also showed a decrease of 21 per cent, when compared with the total of $71,540,900 for the corresponding week last year.

LAST BIG DES PERES BID BELOW CITY ESTIMATE

Offers Submitted on Construction of Western Section of Sewer.

The lowest of eight bids received by the Board of Public Service yesterday for constructing the Western section of the River des Peres sewer was 18 per cent lower than the estimate of city engineers. It was submitted by the Stiers Bros. Construction Co.

This bid was $940,404, compared with the city estimate of $1,129,499. City officials think the Stiers company cut its figures to the bone to reach this price. This unit of the River des Peres sewer, known as Section F, is one mile long, extending from a point just south of Lindell drive in Forest Park, 6109 west, to the western city limits near Skinker boulevard and Cahanne avenue.

It will be necessary to carry on the work without stopping the flow of the river and when it rains the men will have to scurry out. Numerous engineering difficulties are anticipated. The Stiers company has had considerable experience here in street paving work and other contracting. Work on the des Peres job may be started by next month. It will require about 18 months to complete.

The next lowest bid was $1,089,494 from J. J. Gilmore, and next was a $1,122,945 bid from the Fraser-Davis Construction Co. The highest of the eight bids was $1,492,481, from the W. E. Callahan Construction Co., which is completing construction of the sewer along the Lindell boundary of Forest Park. This will be the last big contract in the $11,000,000 project. Remaining work will be done in smaller units on the open channel section in the southern and southwestern parts of the city.

The Struggle of The Heart and Conscience of Christine Farr

CHAPTER 21.

Catastrophe

CHRISTINE stood in the doorway of the Paradise restaurant. A chill, autumn rain was descending in sheets, splashing upward again from the wet, glistening sidewalk down which torrents of water were flooding to the gutter.

She shivered in her light wrap, took a hesitant step, and then drew back again. She had neither umbrella nor rubbers, and she was acutely conscious of the holes in her shoes.

If Meyer Castlebeer had been at the restaurant that night, he would undoubtedly have sent her home in a cab, but he was away, and when she counted the money in her purse, there was not enough for a cab. Besides, the rent was due in a day or two, and Junior must have a new overcoat.

A friendly hand touched her elbow, and Rosa's voice said: "Gosh! Good weather for ducks, ain't it? And you haven't even an umbrella, poor kid! I swiped the chef's. Come on, and I'll see you to the subway."

They huddled together under the one umbrella which, buffeted by the wind and rain, afforded little shelter. Christine was already wet and shivering when she got wearily into her subway train. By the time she reached the other end of the line, the storm was even worse. Before she had gone a block, she was drenched to the skin.

Her teeth were chattering and her hands shook so that she could scarcely use her latch key. She hurried up to her apartment where her babies were asleep, and made herself a cup of hot, strong tea. Then she burned a few newspapers in the grate and huddled close to the flames. But she couldn't get warm. She finally went to bed, but it was hours before she ceased to shiver and fell into a restless sleep.

When she awoke in the morning her head ached and things swam curiously before her eyes. When she tried to call to Junior, her voice was only a hoarse croak. At the slightest movement, an unbearable pain stabbed her chest. "Heavens," she thought, "I hope I am not going to be ill. I must have got a frightful cold last night."

The sun was shining brightly again, and the sky had that bright, clean look that comes after a storm.

The room was cold, and she shivered as she crept shakily from her bed.

"Stay in bed, darlings, until Mummy gets your breakfast and the room warms up a little."

SHE turned on all three burners of the gas-plate while she prepared their eggs and porridge. A feeling of weakness had seized her; the pain in her chest took away her breath, and strange dark spots danced before her eyes. She had to lean against the door of the little kitchenette for support while she prepared the food.

She herself could eat nothing. Her mouth was hot and dry, and her throat was constricted, as if with an iron band.

When she had given the children their food at the little table in the alcove, she turned back into the high room, took two or three faltering steps, and fainted.

Junior's terrified sobbing finally brought the landlady panting upstairs.

"I might have known it," she grumbled, as she lifted Christine's frail, slender form to the bed. "Women are always a nuisance. I ought to have kept to my rule of taking only young gentlemen."

It did not take her very long to see that her tenant was a very rich girl. She called up a hospital and, after a time, an ambulance backed up at the door; a sprightly young interne ran up the steps, was admitted by the landlady, who did not relate the unpleasant story of an ambulance at her doorstep, and was led to the room where Christine lay, semi-conscious, flushed of face and breathing stertorously.

"Pneumonia," said the young interne briskly, after a cursory examination. "I had better move her to the hospital right away. There is nobody to take care of her here, is there?" he asked of the landlady.

"I should say not!" replied the latter indignantly. "I run a lodging-house, I do not a hospital. It's about as much as I can manage to look after all my boarders and keep their rooms clean—what with help as expensive and shiftless as it is today! Why, only yesterday—"

She rambled on with a long story of her woes. The young interne paid no attention at all, but, bundling Christine in the nearest wrap at hand, lifted her in his arms.

"She is so little, I won't need a stretcher," he remarked. Then his eyes fell on Junior and little Louise at the entrance to the alcove, wide-eyed with wonder, too frightened to cry. "These poor children!" he asked, with a jerk of his head toward them.

"Who'll look after them?" he inquired, at the landlady's assent. "I don't know," was the sulky reply. "That's not my affair. But she has a friend, a gentleman. He won't know where he lives, but he'll likely be around some time today—he usually is. I guess he'll know what to do with the kids."

"Oh!" said the interne. When Christine awoke from the restless, pain-filled stupor and found herself in bed in a hospital,

Her last hope vanished on the following day. She had written to the editor of the magazine, telling him that she was now well enough to launch the beauty department. His reply arrived—kindly but unmistakably final. He was very sorry to learn that she had been ill, and he hoped she was better now, but he had been unable to wait. Miss Finkel had taken over the beauty department; he was likewise sorry, but the magazine would be unable to use any more of the "Cabaret Sketches," at the present time. He felt that they had run long enough and that the readers were beginning to tire of the same series. Perhaps, later on—in the meantime, if she had any short stories to submit, he would be glad to give them his consideration.

Christine let the letter fall slowly from her fingers. Short stories, serials, when her hand was too weak even to grasp a pencil! "What am I going to do?" she moaned, turning her face to the wall.

The children were out, and she was able to give way to her despair. "What am I going to do?" she repeated. "I wish I could die!"

Then Lewis Hayes came. He opened before her a way which seemed to promise security and peace.

HE WAS LIFELESS AND DESPONDENT

But ALL-BRAN made him wide-awake and well—doctor prescribed it

CONSTIPATION ruins hopes, saps strength. Yet thousands of sufferers have found the way to relieve and prevent this disease. Read how this man rid his system of constipation.

"During the three years before ALL-BRAN came into my life, I experienced more embarrassing moments than I care to tell of. Being lifeless, dull, lousy and despondent, I could not keep my job. My friends didn't want my company and I was tired of being asked 'What is the matter with you?'"

"After spending much money for treatment, I finally found a doctor who advised me to eat ALL-BRAN. I did this for three months and I don't need to be told that I looked better. I felt better and ate better. I am still using ALL-BRAN every morning and have no trouble now whatever." (Name and address upon request.)

Guard against constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to prevent it—to relieve it. Just eat two tables- spoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Far better than habit-forming drugs and pills.

ALL-BRAN is 100% effective. Doctors recommend it because it promotes natural elimination. Serve it with milk or cream. Use it in cooking—muffins, bread, etc. Delicious recipes on the package. Grocers sell it. Restaurants, hotels, dining-cars service it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

She began to figure out how soon she could pay Lewis back from her meager salary at the Paradise and from the few extra checks which she occasionally received from the magazine which ran "Cabaret Sketches."

"But the very next day Rosa came to see her, bringing her a spray of pink carnations. Her news sent Christine's heart to her very toes. "Castlebeer has filled your place on the program," said Rosa. "He had to, because we had so few numbers anyway. He kept it open for a while, though, before he got this new dancer. She ain't so bad."

"Oh," said Christine faintly. "I was hoping."

Rosa looked at her pityingly. "Ain't it the limit, the way troubles always come at once? But Castlebeer's sweet on you. He'll fire the other kid, if you say the word. It will be tough on her, though. She's got a paralyzed mother to support."

Christine turned her head away to hide the tears. No, she could never ask Castlebeer to discharge a girl who needed the money as badly as she herself did.

Her last hope vanished on the following day. She had written to the editor of the magazine, telling him that she was now well enough to launch the beauty de-

With a feeling of relief and comfort in finding him she sank into a restful sleep.

she sat up, crying hoarsely: "My babies, my babies! What have you done with them? Where am I? I must go to my babies quickly."

CHRISTINE struggled slowly back to consciousness, after weeks filled with racking torture. Her brief periods of sanity had been stabbed only by the thought of her children, but before her fevered brain could actually formulate the fear she held, she would sink back again into the black abyss over which the Angel of Death hovered.

The first time that she opened her eyes, really conscious of her surroundings in the bare little hospital room, she saw Lewis Hayes beside her bed. His eyes were closed, and she could see the lines of weariness in his thin face. She wondered if he had kept a long vigil over her, but she was too weak to peak or to make a movement of her hand.

With a feeling of relief and comfort in finding him there, she always faithful friend—she sank into a restful sleep. The crisis had passed; the doctors said she would get well.

She did not know that Lewis, when he left the hospital, went to her little apartment, as he did at that hour day after day, to see that her children were cared for by the woman he had engaged. His whole life, aside from his work, was given up to looking after Christine's interests. He rose earlier than ever in the mornings, that he might have time to see the children on the way to his work. He managed to come again at noon. As soon as his day's work was done, he would go to the hospital, to sit for a while in Christine's room, even though she was not conscious of his presence. Then he would go back to the children. It meant dining very late, but he did not care. Nothing mattered but that Christine should get well.

He never told her what he had done, but on the day that she left the hospital, weak and pale, a shadow of her former self, the woman in charge of the children unbundled herself of a secret that Lewis would rather have kept—his story of his unselfish devotion.

"It's a fine young man you've got, Mrs. Blanton," she said. "Oh, hope the wedding will be soon; he needs looking after a bit himself, the poor lad!"

Christine smiled faintly, but she did not explain. Nothing seemed to matter. She lifted her hand and looked at it curiously. It was so thin that her wedding ring, which she had continued to wear, would no longer stay on her finger.

AFTER a day or two, when she had gained a little strength, she forced herself to face the situation. She opened her purse and found it empty. Where was the money coming from that was paying for her tiny apartment; that was buying food for herself and her children; that paid the woman who stayed on to look after them?

The answer was obvious—from Lewis.

"I must get strong quickly," thought Christine desperately. "I must get back to work. I can't let things go on like this."

She began to figure out how soon she could pay Lewis back from her meager salary at the Paradise and from the few extra checks which she occasionally received from the magazine which ran "Cabaret Sketches."

"But the very next day Rosa came to see her, bringing her a spray of pink carnations. Her news sent Christine's heart to her very toes. "Castlebeer has filled your place on the program," said Rosa. "He had to, because we had so few numbers anyway. He kept it open for a while, though, before he got

Pond Lily Salad

Chill six hard-boiled eggs and cut into halves crosswise. Remove the yolks without breaking and cut the whites into strips, arranging them on lettuce leaves to resemble lily petals, with the half yolks in the center of each, making a perfect semblance of pond lilies. Water house plants every two weeks with ammonia and water, allowing a teaspoonful of ammonia to a quart of lukewarm water.

Ferns will grow more luxuriously if you stand them in a bowl of lukewarm water over night once a week instead of watering them daily.

While it is not advisable to over-stimulate growing plants and force growth, a little plant food, judiciously applied, will do much in coaxing along a plant that just will not grow.

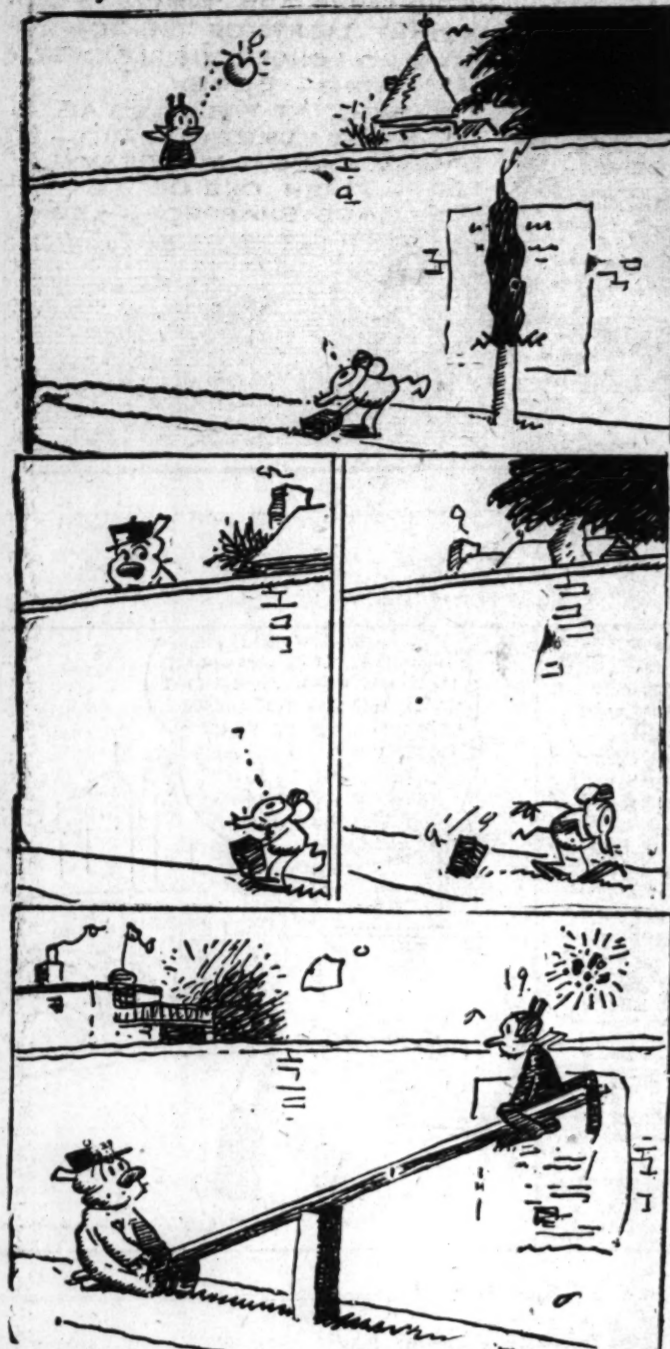

A wire folding stand may solve the space problem for your plants. They come with from one to four trays and when not in use can be folded and stored away.

Moderate Increase in Volume of Trade—About Dozen New Lows for Year in Market.

the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Wall Street's hopes of a good "Christmas market" went glimmering to zero, when a heavy wave of selling carried a long line of stocks down to 12 points, and sent more than a dozen to new low levels for the year. The low prices of the day are recorded in the last hour of the final quotations generally giving little reason for the decline. Trading showed a moderate expansion in volume.
Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending Dec. 19, 1934, announced by the Federal Reserve Board after the close of market as $2,356,000,000, representing a decrease of $55,000,000 from the same week of the preceding year. Analysis of the report owns loans for own account of $20,000,000, an increase of $25,000,000 for account of out-standings in banks and other financial institutions of $40,000,000; an increase of $40,000,000; for accounts with others, $1,804,000,000, decrease of $105,000,000.

Acute weakness of International Harvester is due to the appointment of a temporary receiver, and the fact that Fox Film, which was placed in the hands of three trustees a fortnight ago, unsettled the general market. The appointment of receivers of these two concerns are believed to be due to special causes, and not indicative of general conditions. Wall street, already disheartened by the recent falling off in the price of the New York Public Aid bond, had no room for further downward bid for stocks, and bankers found little opposition to their campaign for lower prices on all the selling came from the market. However, as the parent that many weakened speculative long holders were being closed out, some of them for the purpose of establishing income

Fox Film Drops 12 Points.
Many market letters suggested that the recent sluggishness of the market was but the prelude to a further advance, and found explanation in the fact that there had been no heavy rotation throughout the general list, but there is a wide difference of opinion as to when such an advance will take place, if at all. Traders and investors alike seem inclined to stand on the sidelines, and the spring trend of b-sides is becoming more clearly defined, as the approach of the inventory season makes it difficult to get any accurate figures on general conditions. The auto market ran into further trouble, particularly in the light of the fact that the month closed out their earlier in the month than the expectation that the usual bullish demonstration would produce the opening of the New York Automobile Show at Chrysler, Lord & Taylor, General Motors, and Buick. The Buick and Briggs lost a point or so, and Electric Auto Lites 4%.

Film dropped 13 points. It is said to be 25% International. The Combustion company stock fell 10% and rallied to 8, and the preferred dropped 11 to 18% and the common back to 71, all touching new lows for the year. The Auburn Carbide broke 31 points and rallied 7.

U. S. Steel down 3% Points.

Auburn Auto lost 11 1/2 points.

May 7% and General Electric 7%.

Western Union, Sears Roebuck, A. C. Gilbert, Chemical, Standard Gas and Electric.

Railway Station, Pittsburg and West Virginia, J. I. Case, Ohio Elevator and Ginsel Bros. preferred all rose.
